Q4 What kind of play elements would you like to see in a splash pad?

Answered: 34 Skipped: 14

#	RESPONSES	DATE
1	Features for toddlers and bigger kids which help keep them separate and safe. Splash pads which combine large water dumping features and smaller spray areas make it really hard for multiple ages to enjoy at once.	8/31/2023 9:57 PM
2	Interactive	8/25/2023 7:53 AM
3	Spray mechanisms and larger dump buckets	8/8/2023 1:28 PM
4	Interactive, kid activated features	8/7/2023 12:12 PM
5	Interactive - pumps, levers, cranks, etc.	8/3/2023 11:41 AM
6	Elements that make kids feel like they are sharing the splash pad water with salmon, chorus frogs, ducks, dragonflies, and other PNW wildlife that live in Magnuson Park. A subtle way to also send the message to them and their parents that we humans need to share water with all other creatures.	8/3/2023 9:39 AM
7	Different levels of water pressure. Some elements that gently stream water sideways so little kids can put hands under. Push button activation during warm months so it can be used any day. Elements that spray in a pattern, kids love that!	8/3/2023 7:10 AM
8	Water!	8/2/2023 6:04 PM
9	Lots of water!	8/2/2023 4:29 PM
10	Large fountains, dump bucket, soft anti-slip surface, misting jets, areas that appeal and are accessible to all ages.	8/2/2023 4:18 PM
11	Maybe images of water life living in the park, or climbable elements (maybe climbable is a problem with water, but something you could interact with). No longer have little kids so don't know whats popular.	8/2/2023 4:07 PM
12	Any and all splash pad elements would be a welcome addition!	8/2/2023 3:31 PM
13	I would LOVE a splash pad for all ages-- like beacons hills's or the orca at crossroads.	8/2/2023 3:20 PM
14	Water sprays of different heights	8/2/2023 2:49 PM
15	That it actually works in the summer	8/1/2023 6:51 PM
16	Water from different angles, not just spraying up or down. Fun colors and interesting/artistic use of water.	8/1/2023 2:48 PM
17	Natural elements like rock and wooden bridges. We usually drive all the way to Bellevue Inspiration playground so it would be nice to not have to anymore. The water area there is amazing! Shaded, swinging benches for parents would also be nice.	8/1/2023 10:58 AM
18	Fun interactive parts, and maybe some way to get adults involved with the play or appeal to older kids and teens as well. Even a shallow wading area would be cool. I think the main challenge with a splash pad is that it is seen as something only toddlers should use when the entire community should feel welcome.	8/1/2023 8:34 AM
19	Sensory Panels that reflect light in various colors for children who may feel scared of the water features.	7/31/2023 3:44 PM
20	Patterns, shapes	7/31/2023 1:02 PM
21	Splash pad, and a dedicated flat area for bike riding or skating. Skateboarding - ramp or something similar would be great too.	7/31/2023 12:22 PM
22	What is a splash pad?	7/31/2023 11:12 AM

23	Jets of water shooting from the ground. Water cannon like at North Acres	7/30/2023 5:55 PM
24	Keeping climate change and the future in mind, don't pave over with concrete. Include natural, green, treed area for mindfulness and cooling.	7/30/2023 8:40 AM
25	A mix of surprise and constant sprays.	7/29/2023 5:52 PM
26	Multiple zones with varying heights of water spray.	7/29/2023 11:24 AM
27	Water cannons that can be aimed are always fun!	7/28/2023 1:58 PM
28	Clean water and open access; places for kids to sit or run and explore the water.	7/27/2023 7:40 PM
29	1.) A huge dump bucket 2.) accessibility for all - area for littles, area for bigger kids & area for those with mobility issues 3.) Non-slip 4.) Shaded areas for parents & caregivers to observe kids playing	7/27/2023 1:34 PM
30	Ramp for wheelchair access and baby access, fountain	7/27/2023 10:53 AM
31	Wall of water/cone of water, many water fountains	7/26/2023 6:54 PM
32	Twister dots	7/26/2023 3:00 PM
33	Incorporating water table/water flume, fountain, or other vertical elements	7/26/2023 7:44 AM
34	Aquatic animals, plants	7/25/2023 12:52 PM
