

Neighbors Helping Neighbors Snow Shoveling Program

Want to volunteer and help your neighbors in need this winter? The City of Seattle is launching a pilot program to support community snow shoveling efforts. The goal is to help seniors and people with mobility challenges to get out the door by clearing the sidewalks and walkways near their homes.

Here's how it works:

- Interested volunteers and community members in need of snow shoveling support: Reach out to the captain of your neighborhood Block Watch to make a plan for your block.
- Don't know who your Block Watch Captain is? Go to the Block Watch page of the Seattle Police Department's website and contact the Crime Prevention Coordinator (CPC) for your area.
- Don't have a Block Watch Captain for your street? Contact the CPC for your area to ask about nearby Block Watch groups or other volunteer organizations you can connect with.

To learn more:

- Seattle's Block Watch program:
seattle.gov/police/crime-prevention/block-watch
- SDOT Winter Weather website:
seattle.gov/transportation/winter-weather

If you have additional questions, you can reach the Seattle Department of Transportation (SDOT) customer care team at (206) 684-ROAD or 684-ROAD@seattle.gov.

The City of Seattle may be able to help provide volunteers with:

- Shovels
- Ice melt
- Shoveling tips

*While supplies last

City of Seattle