Community Meeting Comments:

- Incredible waste that did not get ADA access right the first time. Why do we need ADA access from the alley? Is someone asking for that?
- Activating with play is important. No basketball courts, too loud.
- Need comfortable seating/places for people to read that is an extension of the library. Seats with backs.
- Weddings have been held at Ernst Park. Design for events that flow in and out of library meeting room.
- Keep the idea of amphitheater type/oriented seating.
- No seating by alley/BMX shop. Dark hole down there with poor visibility from above.
- Too much paving, too much impervious.
- Library doesn't use gathering area for story time because it needs to be reserved and rented (with fee) from the Parks Department.
- Art features that relate to the library - book themed.
- Change name of park to "Fremont Library Park". Nobody knows or cares about A.B. Ernst.

- Community fought for the park.
- Kid comments - want a playground and swings. Like giant slide.
- Swings could be like porch swings, not just for kids and need less room for fall zone.
- Would like a p-patch. Long waiting lists at other ones in the area.
- Use plants that are drought tolerant - lavender, rosemary.
- No skateboard facilities - they don't share and will take over.
- Enhance the library.
- Please revisit wheelchair access.
- Activation up by street has nicer access.
- Like A-2 the best due to sinuous cohesive pathways, but so much pavement.
- B - ADA access start needs to be closer to the library.
- Court as maintenance access is important, for library too.
- Rock climbing wall?
- Honor the open space for the adjacent landowner.
- Call it Fremont Central Park.
