Registering Your Rental Property

Updated January 1, 2019

WHAT IS RRIO?
The Rental Registration and Inspection Ordinance (RRIO) was established by the Seattle City Council after an extensive public involvement process. RRIO helps ensure that all rental housing in Seattle is safe and meets basic housing maintenance requirements. All rental property owners in Seattle must register their properties with the City. Inspectors will make sure all registered properties comply with minimum housing and safety standards at least once every 5-10 years.

WHO IS REQUIRED TO REGISTER?
Anyone who owns or manages a rental housing unit in Seattle is required to register unless they qualify for a registration exception. Exceptions include government-owned, government-operated, and institutional rental housing. To find out if your property qualifies for a registration exception visit www.seattle.gov/RRIO and go to the Owners & Managers section.

WHAT DO I NEED TO REGISTER?
To register a property, you will need the following:

- Property Address for the rental unit(s).
- Three contact types for each property registered:
  - Applicant—this is the person filling out the application. This could be the owner or the property manager.
  - Owner(s)—this is the person(s) or organization listed on the title for the rental property.
  - Tenant Contact for Repair—this is the person/company that a tenant would call if a repair needs to be made in a rental housing unit. This is the only contact that will be publicly displayed on the RRIO Certificate of Registration.
- The number of rental units on your property.
- Declaration of Compliance. You will need to declare that the property and available rental units meet the standards described in the RRIO Checklist. You can find the RRIO Checklist at www.seattle.gov/RRIO in the Owners & Managers section.

HOW MUCH DOES IT COST TO REGISTER?
The RRIO registration fee is good for 2 years from the date you register your rental property. The 2-year fee is $70 for a property and its first rental unit, plus $15 for each additional unit. For example:
