

Share Your Experiences of the Seattle Police Department's Response to Demonstrations

A Community Forum and Listening Session Hosted By

The Seattle Community Police Commission (CPC)****

Friday, February 6, 2015

6:30 PM to 8:30 PM (refreshments will be served)

New Holly Gathering Hall: 7054 32nd Ave South

This is an opportunity to share what you have experienced when participating in the post-Ferguson and Black Lives Matter Seattle demonstrations. You may provide oral or written comments and are welcome to show video. The proceedings will not become a public record and will not be recorded by the Commission.

The CPC will use the information to write a report on any issues of concern and make recommendations to the SPD, the City, the Court Monitor, and the Department of Justice. If desired, individual anonymity can be maintained.

*What is the Community Police Commission?

The CPC is an independent community voice in the police reform process, launched in 2013 under an agreement between the City of Seattle and the US Department of Justice, and implemented by City ordinance.

Notes: For questions, please contact the Community Police Commission at (206) 233-2664 or OCPC@seattle.gov. This facility is accessible. For accommodations for people with disabilities, please contact Tracy at OCPC@seattle.gov. Written information is available in different formats on request.