

NEWS from THE OFFICE of FILM + MUSIC

Vol. 11, No. 41 May 31, 2018

CITY NEWS

THANKS FOR ATTENDING THIS MONTH'S MIXER! SAVE THE DATE FOR JUNE'S MIXER ON THE 27TH

Shouting a big thank you to those who attended the May 30 Mixer at KEXP with Xbox co-founder and former Microsoft Vice President Ed Fries. The next Mixer will take place at SIFF Film Center on June 27; more info to come on next month's presenter. As always, the Mixer will be free and all-ages, 5PM - 7PM.

OPPORTUNITIES

MUSIC LOVERS: ATTEND SUB POP RECORDS 30TH ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATION

Sub Pop Records announced their lineup for SPF30, a two-day festival celebrating three decades as a record label. The free, all-ages event will showcase new and old acts on the legendary label, including Mudhoney, Fastbacks, Shabazz Palaces, and much more! The celebration takes place at Seattle Center's Mural Amphitheatre on August 10 and at Alki Beach in West Seattle on August 11.

See the Full Lineup at The Stranger

THIRD PLACE COMMONS IS HIRING: MUSIC AND EVENTS COORDINATOR

Third Place Commons is hiring a music and events coordinator to oversee their Weekend Music Program and other community events. This position will schedule and contract bands for weekend performances and serve as the primary event staff member.

Learn More and Apply

YOUTH IN FOCUS IS HIRING: TEACHING ARTISTS

Youth in Focus seeks professional photographers to teach photography classes to youth ages 13-19. Applicants should have experience teaching photography, be a practicing photographer, and have written and implemented a syllabus or lesson plan.

Apply at Youth in Focus

MEDIA DIGEST

UPSTREAM 2018 IS HERE FEATURING 200 BANDS AND 18 VENUES

Upstream Music Fest and Summit begins this weekend featuring small local bands with a sprinkle of big headliners. The festival focuses on local acts, featuring around 200 bands at 18 venues all in Pioneer Square. The festival is designed for attendees to bounce from act to act without being lodged at one performance.

Read More at Seattle Met

SIFF'S FLY FILMMAKING CHALLENGE FEATURES DOCUMENTARIES FROM SIX LOCAL FILMMAKERS

SIFF's Fly Filmmaking Challenge features six filmmakers in Washington who were challenged to create a short documentary about an artist and their lens of creativity. One of the documentaries was created by Ellensburg's Graham Bourque, highlighting teen girls in the world of competitive robotics. A native of the Tri-Cities, Bourque works as a producer at ECTV, where he runs the office and creates content for the Ellensburg community television station. "It's really cool to see how many people are reacting and are really excited about it," Bourgue said in a phone interview.

Read More at the Yakima Herald

SCARECROW VIDEO CELEBRATES 30 YEARS WITH MORE THAN 131,000 TITLES

Scarecrow Video is celebrating 30 years as a video rental store, offering over 131,000 titles while learning to adapt in an era of digital services. To survive this new age of streaming, Scarecrow became a nonprofit four years ago, making it possible for the catalogue to fundraise and apply for grants. Learn about the history of the largest film and television store in the world and about the staff who keep it alive.

Read More at Daily Mail

SPOTIFY'S 'HATE CONDUCT POLICY' CAUSES TOP RAPPERS TO THREATEN REMOVAL OF THEIR CONTENT

Recently, Spotify removed XXXTentacion's content, a rapper currently battling allegations of violence, as part of their 'Hate Content and Hateful Conduct Policy'. XXXTentacion has yet to be convicted of a crime, leading to accusations that Spotify is making a moral judgment, and causing several rappers to threaten to remove their music. Of the music Spotify has removed, there have been no white musicians, causing current claims of the policy being racist. Reinstatement of the removed content is being discussed.

Learn More at Digital Music News

