Note: The completion of a Certified Payroll Report requires an affirmation which is a statement certifying that the information reported is true. Falsification of information provided may subject the signing party and the contractor to civil or criminal penalties.

GENERAL COMMENTS:
- You may use your own payroll accounting form for submitting information for the first page(s) of the report, provided you still report the same information.
- The last page of the report must include an “Affirmation,” using the exact same language as the City of Seattle Office of Housing or Washington State Department of Labor and Industries forms. We encourage you to use the City of Seattle Office of Housing or Washington State Department of Labor and Industries forms to ensure compliance.
- The certified payroll form is also available in Word and PDF format and can be obtained online from the Department of Labor and Industries http://www.lni.wa.gov/FormPub/Detail.asp?DocID=1923.
- The excel version of the certified payroll form can be signed electronically and submitted via e-mail or you can print the form, sign it and submit it to the prime contractor.
- If your company utilizes a “Ten Hour Workday (4-10) Agreement,” provide a statement to that effect and include with your report a copy of the signed agreement for each affected employee. Each agreement must state the specific project name for which you are submitting the accompanying Certified Payroll Report.
- The employee Social Security number is not required. Do not list employee information regarding ethnic origin, marital status, and/or number of exemptions.
- If you are an owner/operator performing all the work on-site, with no employees, state this on the report and list only the daily hours worked. You do not need to submit wage information for yourself.
- The Office of Housing policy requires all subcontractors to submit the first certified payroll and additional certified payrolls if required. All first payrolls are required to include worker’s address.
- For purposes of completing this form, “deductions” means withholdings from an employee’s pay, such as FICA, withholding tax, and any payment the employee has authorized to be subtracted from the employee’s paycheck. It does not include fringe or “usual benefits,” which are employer-paid items.
CERTIFIED PAYROLL
EXCEL FORM INSTRUCTIONS

Complete the general information section, including reporting period, company and project information. Make sure you indicate the payroll number and if the company is the prime contractor or subcontractor.

List on the top line of each numbered block the Work Classification for the employee. Use a valid work classification from the Prevailing Wage Schedule. If more than one classification exists for a given trade, specify the sub-classification (e.g. Power Equipment Operators – Bobcat).

Enter the employee’s apprentice registration number if the worker is enrolled in a State approved apprenticeship program, otherwise leave blank.

Enter the Name and Address for each employee included in the report. Address information is only required for the first payroll. The employee’s social security number is not required.

Insert the number of Overtime Hours (OT) and/or Regular Hours (RG) worked by the employee each day in the corresponding row.

This column (Total Hours) will automatically add up the number of Overtime Hours (OT) and/or Regular Hours (RG) worked that week. You can only change the value in this column by changing the number of hours worked by the corresponding employee.

Insert in this column the Rate of Pay for each corresponding employee. Rate of Pay means the prevailing wage rate paid (regular and overtime) and include “Usual Benefits” paid in cash. However, the Rate of Pay does not include fringe/usual benefits paid by the employer into a plan (see Item 9).

Example: The Prevailing Wage Rate is $35.00 per hour. An employer provides $5.00 in “Usual Benefits” into a plan. The Rate of Pay is $30.00 ($35.00 - $5.00 = $30.00). In this example you would put $30.00 in cell M16.

This column automatically calculates the Gross Amount Earned for the reporting period based on the information supplied in the columns to the left. If an employee worked on more than one project, enter the corresponding total Gross Amount (Column O).

Enter the amount of “Usual Benefits” paid to each worked to plans, funds or programs. This amount does not include Cash benefits which should be included in the Rate of Pay. If all employees receive the same fringe benefits, enter the corresponding amount in cell P16. The “Usual Benefits” column will auto populate with the value entered in cell P16.

“Usual Benefits” are defined as employer payments for medical insurance, pensions, approved apprenticeship programs and vacation and holiday (WAC 296-127-014).

(Continuation):

Enter the corresponding deduction amounts (FICA, Withholding Tax, Other) that are subtracted from the corresponding employee’s gross amount earned for the week reported.

The last column of the first page (Column T), automatically calculates the NET WAGES for each employee by subtracting the total deductions from the gross amount earned.

Complete the top portion of the second (Affirmation) page of the report, including name of contractor or subcontractor, Project Name, and start and ending reporting dates.

Complete the last section, including name of the person signing the report, date and that person’s title. Carefully review it for accuracy, read carefully the Affirmation on the second (Affirmation) page of the report and have the form signed by the appropriate party (electronically or printed). The person signing the form affirms or certifies the accuracy of each and every element of the completed form.
