Domestic Services Checklist

Worker Health and Safety

Make sure to provide a safe working environment and educate domestic service workers about the signs, symptoms, and risk factors associated with COVID-19 illness, and how to prevent the spread of the coronavirus at work. This information should include steps being taken in the workplace to establish social distancing, frequent handwashing, and other precautions, and be provided in the language that the worker best understands.

When possible, the household members should be absent or relocate to areas away from the domestic worker while domestic work is in progress.

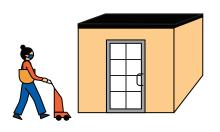

Provide workers free face coverings and disposable gloves.

When possible, adults and children (over the age of two) should wear a face covering and maintain six feet social distancing from the domestic worker and keep face-to-face interactions short.

Keep tissues, hand sanitizer, disinfectants, and trash cans available throughout the household and/or workplace, at no cost to the worker.

Domestic workers should be able to let themselves in and out of the household.

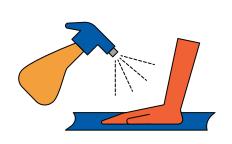

Frequently clean and sanitize frequently touched objects and surfaces such as handrails, machines, doorknobs and restrooms, as well as materials used by the domestic worker after services are complete.

PHASE 2 DOMESTIC SERVICES CHECKLIST

Ensure frequent handwashing for workers and household members, including before and after going to the bathroom, before and after eating, and after coughing, sneezing, or blowing their nose. Use single-use disposable gloves when handwashing is not possible.

If a domestic worker is expected to complete additional tasks, such as frequent cleaning and sanitizing, this should be reflected in a written agreement and workers must be compensated for any additional time.

Employer-owned vehicles must be frequently cleaned and must have hand sanitizer. Workers should sanitize their hands before use.

If any members of a household have COVID-19 symptoms, workers must be informed prior to their arrival to the household, and domestic services must be canceled. If a household member or worker develops symptoms during a shift, the worker should be sent home.

Thanks for your cooperation!
