

PORTAGE BAY PARK PUBLIC MEETING

Seattle Parks and Recreation invites the community to a public meeting for the development of 1101-1137 NE Boat Street on Portage Bay. Seattle Parks purchased the Bryants marina site from the University of Washington in 2014 and now is moving forward to develop a waterfront park. This meeting is an opportunity for the community to learn about the project and offer their initial thoughts on the park development.

The goal for the project is to provide upland and shoreline/water-related recreational experiences for all ages and abilities. The development will include remediation of site contamination, building demolition and potential partial re-use of building elements and shoreline enhancement.

Seattle Parks will gather community feedback at this first meeting and then present design concepts at a second meeting in September with a final design for the new park in early 2016.

We encourage all families, students, and neighbors to attend and participate in the planning of this new waterfront park.
