

NEIGHBORHOOD GREENWAY IMPROVEMENTS

September 2018

We'll maintain access to homes and businesses at all times. Thank you for your patience while we work to improve Seattle's streets!

OVERVIEW

As part of the North Seattle Neighborhood Greenway, we'll soon begin building a new pedestrian island, curb ramps, and pedestrian signal on Greenwood Ave N at N 100th St. No on-street parking will be removed. However, those driving will no longer be able to cross Greenwood Ave N at N 100th St (see map on back).

We began working with community members from Crown Hill, Greenwood, Licton Springs, and Northgate to select the route for this east-west greenway in 2016. Now, we're starting the work that will make it smoother and easier to walk and bike in your neighborhood.

PROJECT DESCRIPTION

Neighborhood greenways are safer, calmer residential streets for you, your family, and neighbors. We make people walking and biking the priority.

The North Seattle Neighborhood Greenway is a route about 2 miles long that will create an all ages and abilities route stretching from Crown Hill to the Northgate Pedestrian Bridge that will cross over I-5 to the Link light rail station when it opens in 2021. It connects schools, parks, and other destinations along the way (see map on reverse). For more info: www.seattle.gov/transportation/NSeattleSafety.htm

SCHEDULE AND FUNDING

Construction is currently happening along the greenway route and will continue through the end of this year. Activity at a given intersection or block face will last for a shorter duration of time. See box at right for what to expect near you.

This project is funded by the 9-year Levy to Move Seattle, approved by voters in 2015. Learn more about the levy at www.seattle.gov/LevytoMoveSeattle.
