The Seattle Department of Transportation (SDOT) has considered public input and is issuing a decision regarding the creation of a new Restricted Parking Zone (RPZ) 32 and a change in the hours of Zone 15. The map on the inside of this mailer highlights the areas where parking restrictions are changing.

Zone 32 signs will be installed in mid-2017 in the presently unrestricted area north of E Olive Way/E John St and west of Broadway, limiting parking for vehicles without Zone 32 permits to 2 hours, Monday – Saturday, 7 AM – 8 PM.

Zone 15 signs will be replaced in Spring 2017, limiting parking for vehicles without Zone 15 permits to 4 hours, Monday – Saturday, 7 AM – 8 PM. Some new blocks will be added to Zone 15 at the same time.

RESTRICTED PARKING ZONE (RPZ)

Notice of Decision

SDOT and Sound Transit have been working together to manage on-street parking around the new Capitol Hill light rail station to prevent commuter parking. In July 2016, SDOT shared a plan for a new RPZ in the presently unrestricted area north of E Olive Way/E John St and west of Broadway. SDOT also proposed a change in Zone 15 hours to prevent commuter parking. Comments on the proposed plan were collected in July and September of 2016.

ZONE 32 (NEW RPZ)

Zone 32 signs will be installed on the blocks identified in green in mid-2017. Residents in the gray area will receive a letter beforehand with instructions for obtaining a Zone 32 permit. The blocks identified in pink will move from Zone 15 to Zone 32. Residents on these blocks will receive further communication about this change.

- All residents within the gray area will be eligible for Zone 32 permits and guest permits
- Permits are currently $65 per vehicle for a two-year cycle (discounted permits are available for qualifying low income individuals)
- Zone 32 signs will limit parking for vehicles without Zone 32 permits to 2 hours Monday – Saturday, 7 AM – 8 PM
- Zone 32 signs will not be installed adjacent to commercial properties or ground floor retail

ZONE 15

In response to resident feedback, SDOT will leave the 4-hour restriction in place in Zone 15, as opposed to the proposed 2-hour restriction. New Zone 15 signs will be installed on the blocks identified in purple and orange in Spring 2017. The new hours will go into effect at that time, limiting parking for vehicles without Zone 15 permits to 4 hours, Monday – Saturday, 7 AM – 8 PM. If you live on one of the new Zone 15 blocks identified in purple, you will receive a letter before any new signs are installed with instructions for obtaining a Zone 15 permit.
