Current Events

Indigenous People's Day – On Oct 10, Seattle celebrated its 3rd Annual Indigenous People's Day. Since 1971, the second Monday of October 2016 is observed as Columbus Day on the federal calendar. Indigenous People's Day not only recognizes and celebrate Indigenous peoples, it denounces Christopher Columbus and the atrocities he committed to Indigenous peoples of this land. Many cities now observe Indigenous Peoples' Day instead of Columbus Day (a protest movement that came out of a 1977 conference in Berkeley, California) including Anchorage, Alaska; Phoenix, Arizona; Santa Fe, New Mexico; Boulder, Colorado, and as of 2016, all of Vermont.

Meet & Greet: Anthony Shoecraft

Anthony is a Senior Policy Advisor to the Mayor. He has extensive background in community-organizing. Prior to the coming to work for the City, he worked for CCER (the Roadmap Project). His current portfolio includes: Economic Development, Youth Development, and Education. Some of the projects/initiatives he is involved with include 100,000 Jobs Initiative, Black Male Achievement, and My Brothers' Keeper – each of these initiatives are focused on improving life outcomes for Black and Brown men. He is both personally and professionally invested in this work.

On Dec 17, he is planning a Peacemaking Circle for youth and police. Youth, young adults, community leaders and police will be invited. He envisions this event to be a smaller gathering (60-70 people), to be a youth voice centered discussion, and an opportunity for youth and police to have open dialogue. He is inviting SYC to take part in this event – as participants, co-planners, and ambassadors. How would SYC like to be involved?

Feel free to follow up with Anthony Shoecraft @ Anthony.shoecraft@seattle.gov if you are interested in getting involved.

"Make Your Case" Activity

Commissioners were asked to respond to a scenario and make a case in support or against an action. SYC was divided into three groups: 'Students for Bus Stop Safety,' 'Safe Transit for All Coalition,' and 'Neighbors against Lighting.' The different arguments made can be found here. SYC was joined by Sara Zora, from Seattle Department of Transportation and Alberta Bleck, from Councilmember Bagshaw's Office.
