Background

The Technology Matching Fund program was established in 1997 to support the community's efforts to close the digital divide and encourage a technology-healthy city. It provides grants where the community's contribution of volunteer labor, materials, professional services, or cash is matched by the Technology Matching Fund.

The fund is administered by the Community Technology Program of the City's Department of Information Technology and is funded with cable franchise fees.

A total of $3,900,832 has been awarded to 292 projects between 1998 and 2015.

The fund honors the memory of Bill Wright, a Central District community leader who embodied the City's goal of creating digital opportunity for all and using technology tools to build strong neighborhoods

Program Goals

The Technology Matching Fund is a cornerstone of the City's Digital Equity Initiative. The fund seeks to support community-driven solutions to achieving digital equity in Seattle. Our vision is for Seattle to be a city where technology's opportunities equitably empower all residents and communities – especially those who are historically underserved or underrepresented

The Technology Matching Fund aims to address gaps that exist in these areas:

- Connectivity: Increase access to free or low-cost broadband
- Skills training: Empower residents with digital literacy skills
- Devices and technical support: Ensure affordable, available and sufficient devices and technical support

Funds Available

- The City will award grants of up to $50,000 for collaborative projects.

Collaborative Project Ideas

Example 1: A group that works with seniors seeks to provide information to their clients on available low cost home broadband options and how to sign up. They can apply for funds to upgrade their computer lab and partner with a group who specializes in delivering coding programs for kids.

Example 3: A group has an employment program for low income adults. They may apply for funds to provide specialized tech training and refurbished laptops for their clients to empower them for a more successful job search.

Match Sources

In-kind Match

Documenting your Match

We encourage you to consider including additional materials in your application package, to prove that your cash match, in-kind materials, and/or volunteer time is secured. These may include:

- A written fundraising plan to secure additional project funds;
- Copies of bank statements or checks;
- Grant award letters; or
- Invoices for items secured for the project.

Your organization may act as its own fiscal agent or use another organization to manage the pass through of grant funds. An individual can serve as your fiscal agent, if he or she obtains a tax identification number and complies with IRS rules. Fiscal agency fees are eligible project costs or can be applied to your match contribution.

Disabilities

We encourage organizations to actively work to make programs and services inclusive. All projects must demonstrate a good faith effort to comply with the ADA of 1991. This Act extends civil rights protection to persons with disabilities.
