Department Overview

The mission of the Department of Education and Early Learning (DEEL) is to ensure all Seattle children have the greatest opportunity to succeed in school and life, and to graduate from school ready for college or a career. DEEL achieves this goal by investing in high-quality early learning services and programs that help children succeed in school, increasing capacity for such programs in underserved communities and strengthening school-community connections.

DEEL is responsible for weaving together early learning programs in the City to provide families with the opportunity to prepare their children to enter school ready to succeed. By braiding and blending resources from the Families and Education Levy, the Seattle Preschool Program Levy, the state Early Childhood Education and Assistance Program and City General Fund, the department seeks to ensure low-income families in the City have access to high quality early learning.

DEEL administers the Education-Support Services Levy, otherwise known as the Families and Education Levy. DEEL is responsible for developing the City's education policy and investment strategy for levy funds to help children succeed in school by increasing access to high-quality programs supporting academic achievement. DEEL builds linkages between the City of Seattle, the Seattle Public School District, and other organizations to ensure successful levy implementation. Levy investments are made in programs that improve academic achievement. To that end, each program undergoes ongoing program evaluation to ensure it delivers on specific targeted outcomes intended to improve academic achievement. The department provides annual reports detailing program targets and results to policy makers and the community.

DEEL also administers the Seattle Preschool Program Levy which the voters approved in November 2014. The purpose of the program is to expand access to affordable, high-quality preschool for Seattle's three- and four-year-olds so they enter school prepared to succeed and the academic opportunity gap for children is eliminated. The levy funds a demonstration phase of the Seattle Preschool Program, which began in 2015 and aims to serve up to 1,615 children in up to 85 classrooms by 2018.

DEEL serves as the liaison between City and the higher education community on all education issues of joint concern. The department builds partnerships with, and facilitates collaboration between, local higher education representatives to increase academic, economic and social advancement. DEEL aligns City investments with institutions' priorities, initiatives and goals to increase student success and higher levels of educational attainment.

Budget Overview

In the spring of 2016, Mayor Murray held two major events — Community Conversations and the Education Summit — to bring Seattle together to address the disparities in the school district that often leave ethnic minority and low-income students behind in academic achievement. In March and April, the Mayor held 20 Community Conversations throughout Seattle to ask the public how best to improve educational opportunities for Seattle's children. Input from over 1,300 attendees laid the foundation for the Summit in April. Over 500 people, everyone from parents and students to local education leaders, attended the Education Summit, the first since 1990. The goal of the Summit was to deepen the partnerships between the City, Seattle Public Schools, community organizations, businesses, philanthropies and education advocates to ensure all our students share in opportunity. With that in mind, the Mayor convened an Education Summit Advisory Group comprised of those partners to develop recommendations and action items about how the City can help make education more equitable.

The 2017 Adopted and 2018 Endorsed Budget provides funding to begin implementing several preliminary recommendations. Funding will increase the number of high-quality Summer Learning slots for students. It will also pilot a high school investment modelled on the Families and Education Levy middle school innovation program that has significantly improved students' academic achievement. The budget also adds two positions to help develop and implement additional recommendations from the Education Summit Advisory Group.

The adopted budget also adds funding to provide for an expansion of the Parent-Child Home program to improve literacy education for young children. The Parent-Child Home Program (PCHP) is an evidence-based, two-year home-visitation literacy program for two- and three-year old children. Administered by United Way, this program currently reaches approximately 500 Seattle children from families below the federal poverty line. A recent study of the Seattle PCHP program shows that participation leads to better preparation for kindergarten and higher reading and math scores in the third grade for participating children compared to their non-participating peers.

Department of Education and Early Learning

The success of DEEL's programs has led to an increase in the growth of their scope and, thus, increased support is needed to ensure effective implementation. The budget also continues two positions added in supplemental budget legislation. These positions allow DEEL to manage the increasing workload of the Family and Education and Seattle Preschool Program levy programs. Additionally, DEEL will use existing resources to fund three new positions to support the department and levy programs, including a position that will be funded partly by the General Fund. DEEL will also use existing resources to fund a data analyst position.

Finally, the adopted budget makes a technical change and moves the K-12 division out of the Director's Office and into a new budget control level for better transparency. This change allows the public to more easily see and understand what the K-12 programs are doing to improve the academic outcomes of Seattle's public schoolchildren.

City Council Changes to the Proposed Budget

The Council added General Fund resources to support and expand the department's work in early learning, K-12, and higher education. The funding focuses on providing services to the children in greatest need considering the Education Summit Advisory Group recommendations to combat the inequities in public education from birth to college. The funds aim to mitigate the loss of space for child care providers in Seattle Public Schools and carry out a study to improve the City's support and training of Family Child Care Providers. The funds will also help low-income children prevent summer reading loss, improve their cognitive processes, and attend college.

Performance Measures Budget Book Pilot

The Department of Education and Early Learning (DEEL) is one of nine departments participating in the 2017-18 Performance Measures Budget Book Pilot Project. This pilot explores potential use of the annual budget book to discuss and display performance measures and related financial information for City departments. Actuals from 2016 were incomplete when these pages were finalized and are not included. A more in-depth description of this pilot and its objectives can be found in the 2017 Adopted and 2018 Endorsed Budget Executive Summary of this book.

As part of this project, DEEL worked with the City Budget Office to:

1. identify and present service area workload performance measures to be included in the 2017 Adopted and 2018 Endorsed Budget;
2. present actual and estimated achievements for each measure; and
3. present specific budgetary appropriations and position authorities associated with each measure, as applicable.

The following tables present information gathered during the initial pilot phase and are subject to further refinement as this pilot is developed.

Work Toward Citywide pre-K

2017 Adopted and 2018 Endorsed Budget: $14,056,804 (2017), $20,602,337 (2018)

Program Summary: In Seattle today, economic and racial disparities persist in third-grade reading levels, fourth-grade math levels, and high school graduation rates. Over the last decade, research has shown that investments in high-quality early learning lead to better academic and life outcomes for children and families. The Seattle Preschool Program (SPP) expands access to high-quality preschool services for Seattle children.

Past Performance: In 2015-16, the initial year of SPP implementation, 280 children were served in 15 classrooms across the city. DEEL is making policy and process improvements to refine provider and child selection and improve participation as implementation progresses.

2017-18 Goal Statement: 1) Increase the number of children served in the Seattle Preschool Program to between 1,007 and 1,140 in the 2017-18 school year. DEEL's long-term goal is to serve 80% of four-year-olds and 70% of three-year-olds at full implementation. DEEL anticipates serving 11% of three- and four-year-olds by the end of the 2018-19 school year or about 1,600 children. 2) Determine what elements and structures are necessary to implement a high-quality and accessible city-wide preschool.

Expected Result: The SPP implementation plan increases the scale of services provided each year at a lower cost per child. In the first year of SPP, 2015-16, the total program cost per child—including such costs as educator and administrative labor expenses, professional development, supplies, curriculum, coaching, tuition assistance for educators to return to school, building or renovating facilities and all other associated administrative costs—was about $39,000. During the 2016-17 preschool year the cost per child will be between $19,800 and $22,500.

Investing in Academic Success

Promote 3rd Grade Reading Excellence

2017 Adopted and 2018 Endorsed Budget: $7,434,163 (2017), $8,331,995 (2018)

Program Summary: The ability to read by the end of third grade is a strong predictor of the likelihood a student will achieve continued academic success and graduate from high school. As of 2014, more than one in five third-grade students in Seattle Public Schools did not meet the standard on Washington’s third grade reading exam. The City’s Families and Education Levy (levy) investments in Innovation Elementary schools are designed to address this need by funding strategies and facilitating partnerships that enhance reading skills.

Past Performance: 45% of the third-grade students in levy Innovation Elementary Schools met standard on the 2014-15 state English Language Arts exam. This performance level continued during the 2015-16 school year. Due to the transition to the new, more rigorous Smarter Balanced state assessments, which changed the way student proficiency was measured, years prior to the 2014-15 school year should not be compared. Over time, as levy-funded schools implement and refine their intervention strategies, DEEL expects to see an increase in average third grade reading proficiency levels.

2017-18 Goal Statement: Increase the percentage of levy Innovation Elementary School third-graders reading at or above grade level.

Expected Result: Three new elementary schools will become Innovation Schools in 2016-17, bringing the total to 19. Implementation plans allow for a maximum of four additional schools to receive new funding in the 2017-18 school year. It is expected that the addition of Innovation Schools will increase the percent of levy elementary school third graders reading at or above grade level once programs are fully online.

Note: The $359,781 amount includes the 2018 portion of the 2017-18 School Year (SY) budget, not listed here.

Investing in Academic Success

Promote Summer Learning

2017 Adopted and 2018 Endorsed Budget: $3,231,304 (2017), $3,699,987 (2018)

Program Summary: Research has shown that all young people experience learning losses when they do not engage in educational activities during the summer, but that low-income children experience greater summer learning losses than their higher-income peers. The Families and Education Levy (levy) funds summer learning opportunities provided by Seattle Public Schools and community-based organizations in order to mitigate summer learning loss.

Past Performance: 1,448 students attended levy-funded summer learning programs in 2015. The upward trend in students served will continue as additional funding becomes available in each year, per the levy implementation plan.

2017-18 Goal Statement: Increase the number of students served by summer learning programs funded by the Families and Education Levy.

Expected Result: DEEL expects the number of students served by summer learning programs funded by the Families and Education Levy to increase to 2,075 in 2017 and 2,430 in 2018. In the final funding period of summer 2019, the goal is to serve 3,000 students. Summer 2019 services are expected to reach approximately 26% of students not meeting grade-level standards on state assessments in Seattle Public Schools.

Investing in Academic Success

Promote Student Health

2017 Adopted and 2018 Endorsed Budget: $6,656,729 (2017), $6,816,491 (2018)

Program Summary: The Families and Education Levy (Levy) funds school-based health centers (SBHCs) in 26 schools to improve the academic performance and health of Seattle students. The Levy also funds school health support services (school nurses) who collaborate and coordinate with school-based health centers for improved student health and academic success. Research has demonstrated that healthy students learn better. Seattle students who use SBHCs have better attendance and grades than students who do not use these services.

Past Performance: Health services focus on three primary targets in middle and high schools they operate in (elementary schools have different targets): number of students served, attendance record of their students and the pass rate of their students. In 2014-15 school-based health center services supported 7,419 K-12 students. Of the students receiving school-based health center services and health support services (school nurses), 5,980 had fewer than 10 absences per year and in middle and high school, 8,651 or 74% of these students passed all their classes.

2017-18 Goal Statement: Health services will maintain their current service level for students. SBHCs will continue to provide full-time health providers, patient coordinators, and mental health providers at each of their sites.

Expected Result: Funding for SBHCs will remain stable for the remainder of the 2011 Families and Education Levy. Thus, DEEL does not expect that the number of students served will change substantially in 2017 and 2018.

Descriptions of Incremental Budget Changes

Baseline Changes

Adjustment for Information Technology Changes - $16,477

In 2016, the City consolidated information technology functions in a new central department, the Seattle Information Technology Department (Seattle IT). However, the budgets for information technology remained in the departments. The 2017 budget completes the consolidation by transferring budget authority from departments to Seattle IT. This adjustment reflects the net change from the transfer of labor and non-labor resources from the department to Seattle IT and the updated central rates for information technology costs charged by Seattle IT to the department.

Supplemental Budget Changes/2.00 FTE

This adjustment reflects changes made through supplemental budget legislation since the last adopted budget. Supplemental budget legislation is developed by the Executive and adopted by the City Council four times a year to provide for corrections to the adopted budget, unforeseen changes in circumstance, new funding opportunities or new policy priorities. The Seattle City Council authorized the addition of a Manager 1 position in its Early Learning division in the 2015 4th Quarter Supplemental Budget Ordinance. The Seattle City Council also authorized the addition of a Training and Education Coordinator to support the professional development and training for new and existing teachers and early learning administrators in the 2016 1st Quarter Supplemental Budget Ordinance.

Citywide Adjustments for Standard Cost Changes - $105,716

Citywide technical adjustments made in the initial planning phase reflect changes in the internal services costs (excluding Seattle IT), health care, retirement contribution rate, and updates to unemployment and industrial insurance charges. These adjustments reflect initial assumptions about these costs and inflators early in the budget process.

Proposed Changes

Education Summit Implementation - $1,000,000/1.50 FTE

This item provides one-time funding for the implementation of two of the Education Summit Advisory Group recommendations. The first recommendation is to expand high-quality summer learning slots to serve more students.

Department of Education and Early Learning

The second recommendation is to pilot an innovation model at one high school modelled on the Families and Education Levy middle school innovation program that has significantly improved academic achievement for students in these schools. Investments affect students in all grades and allow for a "whole student" approach that addresses academic skills, social emotional development, health, and family engagement. This proposal would invest in one high school to implement strategies to reduce disciplinary actions, improve attendance, adopt a more rigorous curriculum, create and/or adopt more culturally relevant curricula, and improve college and career planning and experiential learning for students at all grade levels. Current levy funding for 9th grade could provide a base investment for this initiative to build upon, or other non-city resources could be provided by the school to support the city's investment.

Finally, this item adds funding for two positions with sunset dates at the end of 2018—a project manager and part-time administrative staff (1.5 FTE)—to help carry out the Education Summit Advisory Group recommendations in 2017-18.

Parent-Child Home Program Expansion - $500,000

This funding will allow for the expansion of the Parent-Child Home Program that provides literacy education to two- and three-year old children in the City of Seattle. The City partners with United Way of King County to deliver this program to roughly 500 Seattle children whose families live below the federal poverty line. This funding is designed to leverage additional resources from both the King County Best Starts for Kids Levy and potential additional investment from United Way to serve more eligible children.

Support Positions - $44,568/1.00 FTE

This item adds one administrative specialist position to the Early Learning Division in 2017, a contracts specialist position in 2018 (not included in the 2017 FTE count above), and provides funding to add an accounting position in 2017 in the Department of Neighborhoods that will support DEEL programs. The Administrative Specialist will support program intake representatives to improve the intake of families in the Child Care Assistance Program and Seattle Preschool Program. The Senior Grants and Contracts specialist will administer contracts for the expanding number of providers involved with the Families and Education Levy (FEL) and Seattle Preschool Program (SPP). FEL and SPP levy resources will pay for the Administrative Specialist and the Senior Grants and Contracts Specialist. Finally, this item includes General Fund support for half of the position cost for an Accounting Technician III that will be housed in the Department of Neighborhoods and will provide support for DEEL programs. FEL and SPP levy resources will fund the other half of the position.

Data System Support Analyst

This item shifts funds to add a data system support analyst which will support DEEL but will be part of Seattle Information Technology. This analyst will manage the following databases: a new Early Learning data system, the contract management system, and the Child Care Assistance Program (CCAP) database. DEEL will use existing resources to fund this position.

13th Year Promise Scholarship Program Expansion - $750,000

The Council added $750,000 in funding to expand the 13th Year Promise Scholarship program run by the South Seattle College Foundation. This program helps graduating seniors from local high schools, who otherwise might not be able to afford college, attend South Seattle College for one year tuition-free. The program also offers students a variety of workshops during their senior year to prepare for college enrollment and to improve math and English skills, if necessary. The City's contribution will fund these non-tuition components of the program to free up existing resources for tuition expenses, allowing the program to serve more students who may also attend North or Central Seattle Colleges.

Creating a Child Care Space Mitigation Fund - $670,548

The Council added one-time funding to mitigate the displacement of before- and after-school child care providers in Seattle Public School (SPS) buildings. Since it's often difficult for providers to find another location after being displaced from SPS sites, displacement threatens to decrease the number of child care options for families. The Council intends for SPS to be prioritized in receiving these funds on the condition that a contract be executed between DEEL and SPS to ensure any school receiving these funds provides on-site child care for at least five years afterward. If the School District is unable to use these funds, DEEL may use a process similar to the Seattle Preschool Program Provider Facilities Fund to make these funds available to child care providers for assistance in relocating.

Executive Function Training in Middle Schools - $75,000

The Council added one-time funding for a pilot program for middle school students attending the Seattle Public Schools. The pilot program would focus on those students with executive function challenges that impair their ability to learn and develop. School counselors would be provided with the needed knowledge and skills to help students develop skills such as planning and setting goals, using organizational strategies, and improving time management and prioritization.

Family Child Care Provider Study - $125,000

The Council added one-time funding for a study on how the City can best support and provide training to Family Child Care (FCC) providers, especially those providers serving children ages birth to five years old. The study is to investigate best practices nationwide, review the City's current FCC training program, and develop recommendations for the City to improve its support of FCC providers.

Summer Literacy Program in Elementary Schools - $104,000

The Council added ongoing funding to provide a summer literacy program for K-2 students attending high-need public elementary schools. This program aims to help low-income children prevent loss in reading ability during summer vacation by providing them with reading materials of their choice during the summer.

Both the Families and Education Levy and the Seattle Preschool Levy end collections in 2018 and fully fund the 2018-2019 school year. As a result, revenues from those sources are only for half a year in 2019 while expenses are for a full year. To maintain the same level of service alternative revenue sources will be required.
