

2022 CITY OF SEATTLE GRANTS FOR TENANT SERVICES OPPORTUNITY REQUEST FOR PROPOSAL

I. Introduction

Statement of Purpose

The Code Compliance Division of the Seattle Department of Construction and Inspections (SDCI) is excited to announce this Tenant Services Grants Request for Proposal (RFP). A total of $1,720,000 is expected to be available in 2022, pending final approval of the City's 2022 budget. SDCI is seeking proposals from organizations with experience and/or expertise in providing services to communities in Seattle. Organizations that are already providing tenant services are strongly encouraged to apply.

Background

The Seattle Department of Construction and Inspections is a proud participant in the Race and Social Justice Initiative, a citywide effort to realize the vision of racial equity. We know that some of our most vulnerable residents are renters, including those that identify as immigrants and refugees, people of color, undocumented people, people with limited English proficiency, older adults, people living with disabilities, the LGBTQ+ community, students, and other young adults. The City of Seattle continues its strong commitment to serving tenants in all groups exemplified in the many laws, programs, and services it provides to help tenants, including new tenant protections at both the state and city levels and the City's Renting in Seattle program. This program aims to provide comprehensive information and resources on rental regulations in the City of Seattle, as well as tips and best practices for successful renting. In addition to laws and programs, the City has also provided longstanding grants and contracts to community partners to ensure access to tenant services for all renters in Seattle.

Goals and Action Areas

Proposals should focus on one or more of the following goals and action areas:

Goal 1: Eviction Prevention and Legal Defense

- Legal advice and representation for tenants facing eviction,
- Hosting legal clinics to help tenants receive individualized help with disputes before they are in eviction proceedings,
- Connecting tenants to financial or other assistance to help prevent eviction - proposals should not include direct cash assistance to tenants,
- Assistance with documentation, interpretation, and translation to tenants going through relocation processes such the City's Tenant Relocation Assistance Ordinance.

Goal 2: Right to Legal Counsel in Eviction Proceedings

- Guaranteeing legal counsel, regardless of ability to pay, for tenants in Seattle responding to an unlawful detainer suit, if the tenant is indigent,
- Establish process for determining and verifying the tenant's indigent status,
- Appropriate attorney organization must meet all the following criteria:
 - Has experience providing legal representation for renters advocating for their legal rights;

- Has at least one location near the courtroom where eviction proceedings are heard, in the King County courthouse; and
- Has the ability to provide legal services in languages commonly spoken in Seattle or has access to all necessary language translation services.

Goal 3: Assist and Support Tenants in the Rental Relationship

- Guidance on how to deal with common issues facing renters, including such things as counseling, written guidance, and example correspondence,
- Legal advice,
- Conflict mediation,
- Subsidy defense,
- Payment negotiation and debt defense.

Goal 4: Increase Awareness and Connect the Renting Community to Resources

- Door-to-door and other proactive outreach, education, and assistance with accessing City or other services,
- Advice and assistance with tenant organizing,
- Assisting and advocating for tenants facing problems with housing conditions or rental regulation violations,
- Partnerships with organizations serving tenants in focus communities who are less likely to access City and other services,
- Community events and trainings that educate tenants about renter protections and resources and help connect tenants to services,
- Promote Renting in Seattle Program.

Focus Communities

Several communities are less likely to access City services and partner services that help tenants. This may be because of language or communication barriers, a history of discrimination, a distrust or fear of government, or a lack of knowledge about the services. Focus communities for the RFP include, but may not be limited to:

- immigrants and refugees,
- communities of color,
- undocumented people,
- communities with limited English proficiency,
- older adults,
- people living with disabilities,
- the LGBTQ+ community, and
- students and other young adults.

COVID-19 Response

In 2022, it will continue to be a priority for grants to respond to the COVID-19 crisis and recovery period. Tenant challenges during the crisis period include connecting with rent assistance, preserving the rental relationship during the eviction moratoria, managing rent arrears and payment plans, and connecting with resources to prevent unauthorized evictions. During the recovery period, tenants may need eviction defense resources, connection to debt relief, assistance with negotiating payment plans, and debt judgment defense.

Renting in Seattle Program

To get current and comprehensive information and resources on Seattle’s rental regulations, grant partners will be required to participate in a one-day training on the Renting in Seattle Program. Date and time to be determined.

Elements of a Successful Project

- Serves one or more of the goals/action areas above. Larger proposals should serve multiple goals/action areas. Smaller, targeted proposals are encouraged for one-time events or projects,
- Directly responsive to the COVID-19 crisis and recovery period,
- Administered by an organization with knowledge and experience with Seattle’s tenant and landlord laws and issues, connections with other providers of services to tenants and/or specialized experience with a focus community,
- Leverages other sources of funding, volunteer time, or other resources to provide services beyond the level funded by the City,
- Includes specific strategies to serve tenants in communities who are less likely to access City and other services such as the focus communities listed above,
- Specifically targets renters within Seattle city limits,
- Provides services at locations and hours convenient to tenants,
- Works closely with City programs servicing renters and other tenant service providers to ensure accurate information, aligned work, and avoids duplicative services,
- Provides measurable results for reporting and evaluation.

Successful applications will result in contracts beginning on or after January 1, 2022 and ending by December 31, 2022. Some ongoing or longstanding grant contracts may have an option to be written for two years. Projects should clearly start and end within the contract period. Contracts may be extended at the City’s discretion through written agreement.

Attendance at the Information Session is not mandatory for funding consideration. Please email Hoa Mai at Hoa.Mai@seattle.gov if you plan on attending, to receive the meeting link.

VI. Application

NOTE: Please read this full application before you begin. You may want to gather resources in advance. Organize your application according to the section headings that follow. For the narrative questions, please include section titles, and question numbers. You do not need to rewrite the questions or specific elements of each question.

Application Components

A. Project Proposal (50 points), limit to 4 pages:

Describe your proposed project. Include the following in your response:

1. Proposal: What is the project you are proposing and what are the activities that will be implemented?
2. Action Areas: Which goals and action areas (stated in Section 1 above) will your proposal serve?
3. Level of Service: When, how often, and how long will project activities be provided?
4. Logistics: Where will the activities take place and how will your customers get to the project location(s)?
5. Community Focus: Which communities will this project serve? How will this project benefit focus communities (described in Section I.)?
6. COVID-19 Response: How will this project respond to the COVID-19 crisis or recovery period?
7. Alignment: How will you ensure the project is aligned with the City and other programs serving renters?
8. Outcomes: What performance measures will you collect? How will you demonstrate the success of the program?

Rating Criteria - A strong application meets all the criteria listed below:

- Serves multiple goals and action areas or is highly effective at serving a single high-priority action area,
- Serves a large number of tenants,
- Has an effective and achievable plan to reach focus populations,
- Provides the service where and when customers need it,
- Effectively uses existing resources and aligns with other City and community programs serving tenants,
- Can demonstrate success through meaningful measurable performance.

B. Capacity, Experience, and Timeline (25 points), limit to 2 pages:

1. Description of the service providing organization that includes a general overview, names and credentials of the staff, number of full-time employees and volunteers and who will be doing the work.
2. A narrative outlining the organization's strengths and distinguishing skills or capabilities in serving Seattle renters and or target populations.
3. Evidence that the organization can perform and succeed with the tasks outlined in the proposal.
4. Evidence that the organization has experience in conducting proactive tenant outreach and engagement centered on reaching focus communities.
5. Timeline for project and staff hiring: It is expected that projects will be able to begin on or near January 1, 2022. Projects may begin after this date but must be completed no later than December 31, 2022, except for 2-year contracts or unless extended.
6. Do the staff/volunteers reflect the cultures and languages of the participants? If not, describe how you will make sure that staff/volunteers are able to provide culturally competent services to the project participants?

Rating Criteria - A strong application meets all the criteria listed below:

- The sponsoring organization has operated continuously as a non-profit or community organization for a minimum of 24 months or demonstrates long-term viability based on the experience and qualifications of the principal staff.
- The key people involved (staff and/or volunteers) are in place (hired or secured) by the time the project begins and clearly demonstrate the experience and/or qualifications needed to implement the project.
- The staff/volunteers who design and will lead the project reflect the cultures and languages of the participants. If not, there is an established plan on how culturally competent services will be provided to the participants.

C. Budget and Leveraging (25 points), limit narrative to 1 page (excluding attachments):

Complete the Proposed Program and Personnel Budgets (Attachments 2 and 3). The costs reflected in this budget should be only for the project covered in this RFP. The budget worksheets will not count toward the four-page per narrative limit.

Please also describe in narrative form, limited to one page:

- Summary of your proposed budget and staffing
- Estimated cost per client reached or served
- Leverage/partnerships: What leveraged resources might you bring? What partnerships do you envision forging?
- Scaling: How can this project be scaled? If you are provided with less funding than requested, would it still be viable?

Rating Criteria - A strong application meets all the criteria listed below:

- Costs appear to be reasonable and appropriate given the nature of the project, the populations to be served, the proposed level of service, and the impacts.
- The proposed project appears to be cost effective given the type, quantity, and quality of services.
- The applicant identifies other funds and/or in-kind resources used for the project described in their application, as well as any funds they receive from this RFP.
- The applicant places a strong emphasis on collecting meaningful data that can reflect the success of the proposal.
