CENTRAL NEIGHBORHOOD GREENWAYS OPEN HOUSE SEPTEMBER 2
Making residential streets safer and calmer for you, your family, and neighbors

YOU'RE INVITED

KINH MỜI QUÝ VI ĐẾN HÒP

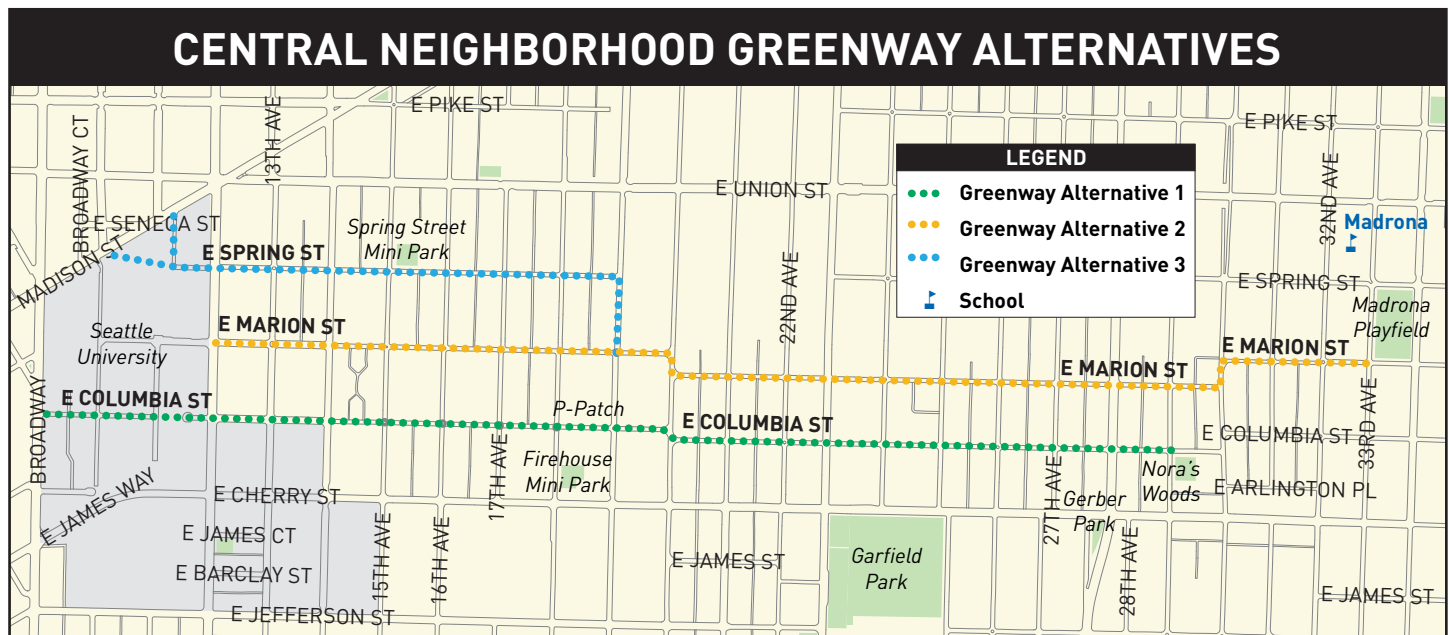

Join the Seattle Department of Transportation (SDOT) on Tuesday, September 2 to talk about a neighborhood greenway in the Central Area. We're studying an east-west route in the area of E Columbia, E Marion, and E Spring streets from Broadway to 29th and 33rd avenues. We want to hear from the people who live, work, shop and play along these streets.

This is the first of two public meetings. The first meeting shares traffic data and helps SDOT staff understand where people want to walk and bike and the barriers to doing so. At the second meeting, we share the results of technical analysis and public comment and the most promising route with recommended safety improvements.

Seattle is building a network of neighborhood greenways. Neighborhood greenways are safer, calmer residential streets for you, your family and neighbors. On streets with low car volumes and speeds a greenway can:

- Improve safety
- Help people cross busy streets
- Discourage cut-thru traffic
- Protect the residential character of our neighborhoods
- Keep speeds low
- Get people to where they want to go like parks, schools, shops and restaurants
