City Fruit promotes the cultivation of urban fruit in order to nourish people, build community and protect the climate.

We help tree owners grow healthy fruit, provide assistance in harvesting and preserving fruit, promote the sharing of extra fruit, and work to protect urban fruit trees.
History

- 80,000 pounds of fruit harvested
- 50 partner programs
- 16 orchards brought back to productivity

Orchard Stewards support the care and maintenance of fruit trees in parks throughout Seattle:

- Amy Yee Tennis Center
- Bradner Gardens
- Burke-Gilman Trail
- Jose Rizal
- Martha Washington
- Meadowbrook
- Meridian Playground

In 2015, City Fruit has hosted 34 work parties, gathered nearly 500 volunteers, contributing 1,760 hours valued at nearly $35,000, to the Orchard Steward Program.
Pruning is essential for fruit trees. In 2015, City Fruit launched a new series of pruning classes and work parties to improve the health and productivity of tree trees.

We use a skilled set of instructors and Master Fruit Tree Stewards to prune fruit trees on both public and private property.

The value to the City is significant: If Seattle hired a professional contractor to prune fruit trees, it would cost in excess of $23,000!

Public Orchards
- 13 events
- 69 volunteers
- 475 hours

Private Orchards
- 50 participants
- 30 trees
- 124 hours of instruction
Our goal is to use as much of the tree as possible.

Our pruning program diverted over 300 pounds of apple and pear branches to local animal owners, including a rabbit rescue!
City Fruit offers a variety of educational opportunities

• Resources and factsheets (www.cityfruit.com/grow-fruit)

• Master Fruit Tree Steward Program
  – 18 individuals trained in fruit tree care and maintenance over seven month program
  – Participants will partner with tree owners to share new knowledge

• Classes, Workshops, and Lectures
  – Second Sunday Class Series at City People’s Garden Store
  – Winter and summer pruning series

With increased funding, City Fruit has grown more professional and efficient:

- Increased capacity. Through new education programs, we are developing trained experts who can help with sophisticated tasks such as pruning.
- Increased programming. In 2015, we offered our first winter pruning series and launched the Save Seattle’s Apples campaign.
- Putting the entire fruit tree to work. We are increasing our diversion efforts, so that more of the tree is used – either for donation, value-add products, or animals.

Our 2016 request aligns with the Seattle Human Service Coalition’s request for funds to support food rescue efforts and would allow City Fruit to continue moderate, appropriate levels of growth. As each year in our history, we hope to add an additional neighborhood to 2016 – Queen Anne and Magnolia.
Thank You
