Musical Line up

06.06.2009

12:45 pm Olympic Hills Taiko Drummers

Olympic Hills Elementary School will be represented by a group of their 3rd – 5th graders to bring a start to our formal presentation with this deep and rhythmic traditional Japanese drumming style that is thousands of years old.

1:45 pm Ala Carte

"Ala Carte" is a vocal trio featuring Julie Olson, Pat Johnston and Dee Brown from Seattle and Bellevue, Washington. All three, prior to coming together as a trio, worked for many years as solo jazz artists around the greater Puget Sound area. The name "Ala Carte" refers to the variety of music they aspire to engage in, from the "traditional" to "jazz." They recently joined forces and have been warmly received in a variety of venues and look forward to a long and fruitful career as a trio.

2:15 pm Mad Fiddlu

Mad Fiddlu is a popular Scandinavian "nickelharpa/vocal" folk group featuring Bart Brashers, John Peekstock, and Anna Abraham playing traditional and contemporary Swedish tunes.

2:45 pm Black Math Quartet

<http://www.myspace.com/blackmathquartet>

"Black Magic Quartet get out the slide rule and whack jazz expectations all over the laboratory. They are a driving, exciting combo that, when unleashed, offer some of the most exciting music in the city. With seasoned guitarist Brian Heaney, who can shred like a, like a... and drummer Liam O'Connor, bassist Tony Sodano, and a very, very talented trumpeter, Matt Reid."
