

Public Process History

June 2006 – February 2007

Seattle Parks is creating a citywide plan to help provide public facilities for participants in this popular sport. The plan will provide a long-term vision for skatepark facilities.

In June 2006, more than a hundred people attended three public meetings and an open house where community input was given on:

- The draft criteria for locating future skateboard facilities in Seattle,
- The types and range of facilities Seattle should have, and
- Nominations of potential sites that the Task Force and consultant should evaluate for possible inclusion in the Citywide Plan.

» Summary of public outreach for June meetings

In October 2006, approximately 250 people attended three public meetings where community input was given on the draft list of locations proposed by the Skatepark Advisory Task Force. Hundreds of e-mails and phone calls were also received.

» Summary of public outreach for October meetings

» Draft criteria and types of skateboard facilities

» Planning Process Presentation

» Planning Process Presentation: Phase 2

Below is a map of potential locations proposed by the Skatepark Advisory Task Force and under consideration for inclusion in the Skatepark Plan. (See Potential Site Map)

Upcoming Decisions/Timeline:

- December 14, 2006: The draft citywide skatepark plan will be presented to the Board of Park Commissioners followed by a public hearing.

- December 20, 2006: The Task Force will brief the Seattle City Council's Parks, Education, Libraries and Labor Committee.

- January 11, 2007: The Board of Park Commissioners will make its recommendation to the Parks Superintendent. The audience may listen to the discussion and recommendation; however, no further verbal public testimony on this project will be heard by the Board after the December 14 public hearing.

- January 2007: The plan may be revised, as appropriate, and forwarded to City Council by the January 31, 2007 target Council established for this effort.

- Late January or early February 2007: Seattle City Council may choose to adopt thea citywide skatepark plan via resolution.

Skatepark Planning Process Environmental Checklist

- Citywide Skatepark Checklist FINAL
- Determination Of Non-Significance
- DNS Analysis - SP Citywide PlanFINAL
- Framework for Criteria
- Potential Site Map 10 04 06 1
- Skatepark Siting Criteria Final

The public comment period on the Declaration of Non-Significance (DNS) ended on Monday, November 27, 2006.

For more information on the DNS, contact:

David Graves, Senior Planner, Seattle Parks and Recreation david.graves@seattle.gov