

“So Sound Transit chooses the alignment,
THEN what?”

STATION AREA PLANNING

The City of Seattle and Sound Transit are partners in working with Seattle’s neighborhoods on “Station Area Planning.” The light rail stations being planned within Seattle offer an opportunity to not just create a transportation system, but to build livable communities around the stations that are great places to live, shop and work.

Through “Station Area Planning” we will identify ways to implement neighborhood planning goals for sidewalks and bike lanes, vibrant community businesses, more affordable housing and open space, as well as fast reliable transit.

Station Area Planning is about making livable communities.

Involved!
