

The Station Area Overlay adds flexibility and incentives to support City goals for Transit-Oriented Development

The Pedestrian Overlay supports street-level shops in neighborhood commercial districts in ways that make good places to walk.

Zoning controls what activities are allowable along with regulating the size and location of new development (bulk, scale, height, relationship to street and sidewalk).