Construction is coming to your neighborhood starting the week of May 26

Seattle Public Utilities (SPU) will replace a 20-inch water main along Western Avenue this summer that is at risk of breaking due to ground settlement. Construction will take place between Yesler Way and Spring Street (see map). Preparatory work has started. Major construction to replace the pipe will begin in late May and continue until fall 2015.

During construction, customers should expect the following:

- Day and night work
- Noise, dust, and vibration from construction equipment
- Temporary on-street parking restrictions
- Slowed traffic, including lane closures and detours on Western Avenue

Some customers will have their water temporarily shut off several times during construction. Specific information will be sent directly to those customers and service impacts will be scheduled in advance.
