Summary of the Legislation: This legislation, in conjunction with an Executive Order, would implement the provision for creating a Community Police Commission (CPC) as part of the settlement agreement (Agreement) and memorandum of understanding (MOU) between the United States Department of Justice (DOJ) and the City of Seattle approved in Federal Court on August 30, 2012. The framework for the CPC is outlined in the Agreement and MOU and this ordinance would formalize those elements. Some key components are as follows:

- The CPC is established to leverage the ideas, talent, experience, and expertise of the community. Implementation of the MOU will be overseen by the Parties and the CPC.

- The CPC creates an important opportunity for Seattle’s diverse communities to participate in the implementation of the MOU and the Settlement Agreement, and to promote greater transparency and public understanding of the Seattle Police Department.

- The CPC will consist of eleven (11) members, including a Chair designated by the Mayor. All eleven (11) members will be appointed by the Mayor and confirmed by the City Council.

- The CPC will have the following duties:
  - The CPC will undertake the responsibilities assigned to the CPC in the Agreements;
  - The CPC will review the reports and recommendations of the Monitor, issue its own report or recommendations to the City on the implementation of the Agreement;
  - The CPC may review and issue reports or recommendations as to the implementation of SPD’s 20/20 initiative and other initiatives of SPD and the City to support the reform process; and
  - The CPC may consider other issues as referred by DOJ and the City in Section III. C. of the MOU related to the following:
    A. Community engagement
B. Accountability

1. Review of Office of Professional Accountability (OPA) structure;

2. Investigation timelines; and

3. Public education and outreach

C. Investigatory stops and data collection

D. Officer assistance and support

E. Transparency and public reporting.

- The CPC may propose legislation to the City Council that will further the purposes described in Section 2.

- The CPC may make budgetary proposals and recommendations to the City Council regarding the City’s budget that will further the purposes described in Section 2.

The CPC is also responsible for any and all duties prescribed in the Agreement and MOU that are otherwise not identified in this ordinance. The CPC may also appear before the Court enforcing the Settlement Agreement if the Court determines that the CPC has standing and meets the requirements of Fed. R. Civ. P. 24.

Background:
From March to December of 2011, DOJ conducted an investigation of SPD pursuant to the Violent Crime Control and Law Enforcement Act of 1994, the Omnibus Crime Control and Safe Streets Act of 1968, and Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964. In December, the Justice Department announced its findings that SPD had engaged in a pattern or practice of officers using excessive force. DOJ also found concerns related to SPD policies and practices in a number of other areas including pedestrian encounters and potential bias policing. As a result, the City and DOJ negotiated and entered into a Settlement Agreement and MOU with the goal of:

“ensuring that police services are delivered to the people of Seattle in a manner that fully complies with the Constitution and laws of the United States, effectively ensures public and officer safety, and promotes public confidence in the Seattle Police Department (SPD) and its officers.” – Page 1, Settlement Agreement and Stipulated Order of Resolution, United States v. City of Seattle.

The CPC is one element of the Settlement Agreement and MOU. The City Council and Mayor are working collaboratively to implement and advance other elements of the Agreements.
