

Vol. 11, No. 28
March 1, 2018

CITY NEWS

SEATTLE UNVEILS ONLINE FILM PERMITTING!

In its ongoing mission to make Seattle the premier location for film production, the Seattle Office of Film + Music has implemented a new online tool for film permit applications. The new system streamlines the permitting process for clients, and provides location managers with helpful information on popular Seattle filming locations. No more pdfs; no more long phone calls. Happy filming, Seattle!

Learn More About Applying for a Seattle Film Permit

IN CASE YOU MISSED IT: RESULTS FROM THE INITIAL CREATIVE INDUSTRIES SURVEY

Last September, the Office of Film + Music (OFM) conducted a Creative Economy Survey to guide a more comprehensive study coming in 2018. From the 549 responses to this survey, OFM was able to recognize some broad trends that will help inform the future study, including affordability issues and what respondents find important for a city to have to support the creative economy.

Learn More About Our Findings at Seattle Film + Music Blog

INDUSTRY

STATE OF THE STUDIOS: WHAT PRODUCTION STUDIOS ARE AVAILABLE IN SEATTLE?

After the loss of Seattle Grip & Lighting, video production company Big House Productions created an online list of local production houses. Big House Productions' goal is to keep the list updated and current as facilities and conditions change. The list is open to input to maintain a comprehensive list.

See the List at Big House Productions

THIS WEEK'S BAND IN SEATTLE: SLEEPING LESSONS

Playing songs off their debut album Red Sprites, check out indie-rock group Sleeping Lessons. Band in Seattle airs Saturday nights on KSTW, CW11 @ 11.

Catch More Episodes at Band in Seattle

OPPORTUNITIES

MUSIC PRODUCERS: SUBMIT NOW FOR BEATMATCH

BeatMatch 2018 is accepting submissions through tomorrow, March 2. BeatMatch is an all-ages beat battle featuring 16 music producers from the Seattle area competing head-to-head in a bracketed tournament. To be considered, submit your best original battle beat via the submission form on their website; don't delay, the submission window ends tomorrow at 11:59pm.

Learn More at Do206

KEXP IS HIRING: INTERNS

KEXP is currently hiring for seven internship positions. All internships are 6 months long, require a 10-15 hour per week commitment during regular business hours, and pay $15 an hour. Positions include audio post-production, creative production, and morning show producer, to name a few.

Learn More at KEXP

THE RENDEZVOUS IS HIRING: ARTS BOOKER

The Jewelbox Theater at the Rendezvous is looking for a full-time arts booker. This role will program and manage artistic bookings for the Jewelbox Theater and serve as the primary point of contact for artists across a range of artistic disciplines while actively identifying new funding sources, strategic relationships, and programming partners.

Learn More and Apply

HBO INTERACTIVE IS HIRING: ASSOCIATE PRODUCER

HBO's Digital Products Team is hiring an associate producer to work with cross-discipline teams in HBO's interactive, streaming and web properties. This role requires 1+ year experience in creative product development and will help drive production tasks in specified feature areas.

Learn More at Jobie

SEATTLE STORM IS HIRING: VIDEO & EQUIPMENT MANAGER

Seattle Storm is hiring a seasonal (May - September) video and equipment manager. This position will create film edits as directed by coaching staff and manage video needs during home games.

Learn More at NBA Careers

ROBERT LANG STUDIOS ANNOUNCES NEW INITIATIVES

Robert Lang Studios (RLS) recently announced a new education program, a new live show in development, new gear, and a new director of business development. RLS Academy, the new education program, will offer a one-year accreditation program to prepare graduates for work in recording and media production. RLS is also developing a new live television program, Emerald City Live at RLS, for distribution through a leading digital platform.

Read More at NewsWire

UPSTREAM MUSIC FEST + SUMMIT ANNOUNCES MORE ARTISTS

Upstream Music Fest + Summit recently announced its second wave of main stage artists and headliners. The announcement includes Miguel, SUPERDUPERKYLE, and Little Dragon.

Learn More at The Stranger

