II. Background & Strategy

A. Background

Prior to COVID-19, HSD organized:

- four listening circles with staff from 20 youth-serving agencies; and
- nine listening circles attended by 114 young people.

The following themes were identified as key needs:

- safe, supportive spaces;
- ongoing relationships with trusted adults;
- programming that reflects the cultural identities of young people;
- support that prepares young people for living wage jobs;
- paid internships; and
- support for potential entrepreneurs.

This RFP was also informed by feedback received through listening circles and a community co-design process held between 2017 and 2019. Themes and feedback gathered were backed by literature reviews of local and national best practices, regional funding priorities, and local disparity data.

B. Strategy

This RFP will fund the following strategy:

- Supportive Services: services that nurture and cultivate the strengths of young people and include an anti-racist approach by identifying and changing the values and behaviors that perpetuate systemic racism, and that supports positive cultural identities. Services must:
 1. adhere to all four protective factors below (protective factors are characteristics, conditions or behaviors that reduce the effects of stressful life events and increase the ability of young people to thrive in all aspects of their lives¹); and
 2. include a pre-employment component, defined as services that prepare young people to be successful in future employment.

Protective Factors: Supportive Services Strategy*
i.	Young people feel physically and psychologically safe in the program space and with program staff.
ii.	Young people are engaged/connected with one or more of the following:

¹ U.S. Department of Health & Human Services, Centers for Disease Control and Prevention. <https://www.cdc.gov/healthyyouth/protective/index.htm>

	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • adults they relate to and who are actively helping them develop their skills and interests • their culture • their community • their peers • their hobbies (arts, music, sports, etc.) • their job, internship, or job training
iii.	Young people demonstrate they can problem solve and cope with challenges in their lives and have confidence in their self-worth and abilities.
iv.	Young people are focused on the goals/skills and experience they need to accomplish for future personal and/or career success.

*Adapted from Youth.Gov Risk and Protective Factors.²

Services should be developmentally appropriate, have a prevention focus, and be culturally and linguistically relevant. Services should be offered year-round allowing for either in-person or virtual services (according to Seattle & King County Public Health COVID-19 guidelines), and on a regular basis to support the development of protective factors. In-person services may be offered at agencies located in communities or at schools and locations that are convenient for young people; both in-person and virtual services should take place at times that are convenient for the young people and their families. This funding is not intended to provide case management, behavioral health services, emergency services for young people in crisis, or for activities that earn school credits.

Examples of eligible activities include, but are not limited to:

- mentoring
- leadership development
- anti-racism trainings
- civic participation and engagement in anti-racism activities
- social-emotional development programming
- support for cultural identification and affinity
- job readiness and career development
- career exploration, such as field studies, visits to employers, job fairs, etc.
- internships (paid or unpaid)
- entrepreneur training

Staff should reflect the communities and populations served, be culturally and linguistically competent, and have experience working with the priority and focus populations. Staff to participant ratio should be reasonable for the services described.

E. RFP Specific Eligibility, Data and Contracting Requirements

Applicant agencies must also adhere to the following:

1. Number of Proposals

Each agency is limited to one proposal. For collaborative projects, only the agency identified as the lead should apply. If your agency is also listed as a partner in another agency's application, the services provided, and budget requested should be clearly defined and not duplicative.

2. Data Collection and Evaluation

All funded agencies will participate in data collection to evaluate and improve the quality of their programming. HSD will host the evaluation meetings as needed.

3. COVID-19 Safety Guidelines

Agencies are expected to adhere to current, appropriate safety protocols as outlined by Seattle-King County Public Health, to prevent the spread of COVID-19. These protocols may include social distancing, wearing masks, hand washing, and sanitizing surfaces. Agencies should have a plan to safely provide services remotely if that becomes necessary.
