Wainwright Store Removes Objectionable Candy Display

Following a protest by W. W. Wainwright, manager of the Wainwright store, situated at the corner of 14th and 1st streets, the display of objectionable candy in the store has been removed. The store had been displaying a box of "Coca-Cola Candy" and the display contained a picture of a person, giving signs with the word "Coca-Cola" on it. W. W. Wainwright, who was told by Wilson that the display was objectionable and should be removed, immediately ordered the display removed. Mr. Wainwright stated it was not the policy of the store to display such objectionable persons who have been given a license to sell their goods in the store.
