

MONTHLY STATUS REPORT – JULY 2019

Seattle Free-Floating Bike Share Program

Summary

- Ridership in July 2019 exceeded June 2019 and was about even with July 2018.
- SDOT's adaptive cycle-share partner, Outdoors for All, reached its 400th ride in July, achieving and surpassing another 2019 goal five months early.
- With 779 bike share parking spaces installed as of the end of July, we have exceeded 50% of our 2019 target of 1,500 new bike share parking spaces.
 - Currently, 74% of new bike share parking spaces are in on-street corrals, which SDOT is prioritizing to lessen impacts on the sidewalk and to improve visibility and safety for pedestrians.

¹This total is down slightly from about 291,000 trips in July 2018, when there were 10,900-11,800 bikes available on any given day. Note that our data definition has changed slightly since 2018 to exclude trips where the distance is 0 meters or the duration is less than 30 seconds.

²This value is the sum of each vendor's unique user totals and does not account for users that are registered with both companies. This is because each vendor reports its total unique users separately to decouple rider information from trip information.
