- January 17, 2022: The commission reviewed the minutes of January 17, 2022. Commissioner Bonfrisco moved to accept the minutes as written. Commissioner Davis seconded the motion. The minutes were approved by acclamation and will be signed by the chair.

6. CASE STATUS REPORT

LaBelle v. Parks-CSC No. 21-01-041-Update: Executive Director Andrea Scheele updated the commission on the status of the appeal of a disciplinary appeal filed by an employee of Parks who was terminated. A first prehearing was held. The department filed a motion to dismiss. Mr. LaBelle had an opportunity to respond and did not. Director Scheele reviewed the motion and documentary evidence submitted therewith and found that Mr. LaBelle's union had grieved his separation under the collective bargaining agreement, instead of Mr. LaBelle grieving it through the Personnel Rules' employee grievance process. Ms. Scheele granted the City's motion, dismissed the appeal, notified parties of the dismissal.

7. EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR REPORT

Departmental Work and Budget Update: Ms. Scheele provided an update to the commission on staff projects. PSCSC/Fire: Ms. Scheele reported that due to SFD's urgent staffing needs, there will be an emergency entry level Firefighter civil service exam in 2022r. Unless other plans are made, this will push back the next entry-level exam cycle by a year. Commissioner Council Nomination/Appointment: Ms. Scheele introduced Evan Chinn who is the candidate for the council appointment to the CSC. Ms. Scheele will submit materials to Council President Juarez who is also Chair of the Governance, Native Communities & Tribal Governments Committee. Council President Juarez will advance the nomination of Mr. Chinn at the March 17 committee meeting. The full City Council will vote on March 21st on the appointment. Ms. Scheele congratulated Commissioner Bonfrisco on her new position as investigator for the Human Resources Investigation Unit. Commissioner Bonfrisco's new position is not in the civil service, so she will conclude her CSC service. With two current commissioners outgoing, the commission will not have a quorum and will cancel its March meeting. Budget: Ms. Scheele notified the commission she is working with the departments budget analyst to carry over funds that were allocated to the commission in 2021.

8. EXECUTIVE SESSION (MAY BE CANCELLED IF NOT NEEDED): There was no Executive Session.

9. OLD/NEW BUSINESS

UPDATE ON CSC SPECIAL ELECTION FOR EMPLOYEE-ELECTED MEMBER AND ANTICIPATED NOMINATION/APPOINTMENT OF CITY COUNCIL APPOINTEE- Ms. Scheele and staff are working with the City Clerk's office to conduct a special election the third week of April for the employee elected commissioner position that will be vacated by Commissioner Bonfrisco. The special election requires a resolution that will go before the City Council for a vote on February 15. Staff is working on notices to city employees who are eligible to run for the position and vote in the election, via postcard, web postings, and information sessions. She hopes that a new commissioner will be on the commission in June.

Re: Thomas Griffith v. Seattle Public Utilities (SPU) CSC No. 22-01-013

Dear Parties,

The Civil Service Commission (CSC) acknowledges receipt of Mr. Griffith's disciplinary appeal, filed March 28, 2022. A copy of the appeal is attached to this letter.

Based on my review of the appeal and associated documents, it appears that:

- Mr. Griffith exhausted the Employee Grievance Process as required by the City's Personnel Rule 1.4.
- Mr. Griffith's appeal was filed timely, on the twentieth day after the Step 3 grievance notification.
- The subject matter of the appeal, a disciplinary decision that resulted in termination of a civil service employee, is within the jurisdiction of the CSC.

On Monday April 18, at 2 pm, at the CSC's regular meeting, the commission will review Mr. Griffith's appeal and decide how the matter will proceed to hearing. The parties are invited to attend and participate in next Monday's meeting. The sole issue in this case will be the potential conflict of interest, and how and by whom the appeal will be heard.

This letter is also to put the parties on notice that Commissioner Mary Wideman-Williams has identified a potential conflict of interest she has in this matter, related to her relationship with the appellant as former work colleagues and friends.

When appropriate, the CSC may delegate a matter to a "Presiding Officer" (CSC Hearing Officer or Seattle Office of Hearing Examiner), to conduct the hearing and provide recommendations to a CSC Reviewing Officer/commissioner on final decisions. Having retained jurisdiction, a commissioner reviews the record and makes final decisions based on the Presiding Officer's recommendations. The CSC may affirm, modify, or remand a decision of a Presiding Officer. See Civil Service Commission Rules of Practice and Procedure, Rule 5 for more on this process. Parties will have the opportunity to ask questions at the meeting on Monday.

Please contact me directly if you have questions or concerns, or not able to attend Monday's meeting. I have attached a draft agenda, which includes WebEx attendance details. Meetings are being conducted remotely at this time, pursuant to Proclamation 20-28.

Sincerely,

Andrea Scheele
Executive Director

Redacted pursuant to RCW 42.56.250. This area contains test questions, so

Mr. Griffith:

I am in receipt of the Step 3 grievance you filed on March 1, 2021 with then-Seattle Human Resources Director (SDHR) Bobby Humes and the related February 28, 2022 grievance report from current Acting SDHR Director Kimberly Loving. Your grievance alleged that the termination from your job did not meet the standards for imposing discipline under Personnel Rule 1.3.3, was discriminatory based on your age and retaliatory for raising FLSA and ADEA concerns, and that the length of the investigation and administrative leave was too long.

I have considered the materials provided to me and am respectfully denying your grievance for the following reasons:

- 1) Violation of Personnel Rule 1.3.3. Your most recent 2019 behavior with co-workers, as supported by the investigation, violates SPU's policies and is detrimental to the workplace environment.
- 2) Claims of discrimination and retaliation. SDHR's Human Resources Investigation Unit completed an investigation of your discrimination complaint and determined that the disciplinary action was non-discriminatory and did not violate Personnel Rule 1.1. It is unclear what FLSA violations you alleged to have been retaliated for; you were employed as a salaried employee, and we are not aware of any claim that you have made that you are owed money under the FLSA.
- 3) The investigation and administrative leave. Finally, no policies were violated when you were placed on administrative leave. There is not a specific time limit within which an investigation needs to be completed. Administrative leave is not considered discipline, and you were financially whole while on administrative leave. It was appropriate that SPU, not SDHR, investigate your behavior which resulted in your termination.

As such, your termination from employment is sustained. Spruce Metzger at 206-473-2351 or Spruce.Metzger@seattle.gov can answer any questions you may have about this decision.

Sincerely,

Andrew Lee
Interim GM and CEO

C. All employees shall refrain from prohibited behavior under this Rule.

Such management representative shall also comply with any departmental expectation to report possible prohibited behavior within the department.

1. Management representatives who fail to promptly report the alleged prohibited behavior to the Human Resources Investigation Unit pursuant to this Personnel Rule 1.1.6 may be subject to discipline, up to and including termination from employment.

2. In addition to possible discipline pursuant to Personnel Rule 1.1.6 (B)1, supported instances for which a management representative had knowledge of the alleged prohibited behavior but did not promptly ensure it was reported shall result in the notation in the management representative's own personnel file of the failure to report. Depending on other factors contributing to why the management representative failed to report the prohibited behavior, such individual may also be subject to loss of discretionary compensation or opportunities, such as merit leave or discretionary pay increases, as appropriate.

1.1.7 Responsibilities of the Human Resources Investigation Unit and Other Investigators

A. The Human Resources Investigation Unit shall receive and act on reports of prohibited behavior from employees, management representatives, and others consistent with this Personnel Rule 1.1.7.

5. The investigation shall include interviews with the employee reporting the behavior, the subject of the allegation, and any other person(s) whom the investigator has reason to believe has information directly related to the alleged behavior or investigation thereof. The investigator may, but is not required to, interview witnesses suggested by the reporter or the subject. The investigation may also include review of other relevant information pertaining to the allegation.
6. The investigator shall maintain records of the investigation and prepare and provide a written report of the investigation to the appointing authority or designee, the reporter, and the subject. Such reports may be redacted for internal use as needed to protect privacy and avoid undue workplace disruption.

D. Investigations and reports of prohibited behavior shall be kept confidential to the extent allowable by law, or as needed to carry out the purpose of this Personnel Rule.

E. To avoid duplication of efforts or otherwise conserve City resources, the Human Resources Investigation Unit or department overseeing the investigation may suspend or close an investigation for any reason that does not conflict with this Rule, including the reason that the reporter is actively pursuing the same matter in another forum or has agreed to participate in a mediation of the matter.

F. The Human Resources Investigation Unit shall receive and compile data on supported and unsupported reports of prohibited behavior from departments subject to this Rule, for the purposes of understanding and tracking trends across the City, and advising departments on the consistent administration and discipline in response to supported prohibited behavior.

G. The Human Resources Investigation Unit shall publicize and make available an annual report of which will at a minimum include:

1. The number of reports by category (discrimination, harassment, misconduct, etc) made by employees or management representatives,
2. The number of reports that were supported and unsupported, and
3. Actions taken as reported by departments, including disciplinary action taken, if any.

B. In addition to disciplinary action taken, the appointing authority (or designated management representative) shall note in the employee's personnel file the supported prohibited behavior.

C. Appointing authorities or their designee shall report actions taken to resolve any supported or unsupported prohibited behavior to the Human Resources Investigation Unit. The purpose of providing such information is to track citywide trends on prohibited behavior to meet the requirements of Personnel Rule 1.1.7(F) and (G).

Personnel Rule 1.4 – Employee Grievance Procedure

1.4.0 Authority

SMC 4.04.050 and subsequent revisions thereto, Rule-making Authority

SMC 4.04.240 and subsequent revisions thereto, Employee Grievance Procedure

SMC 4.04.260 and subsequent revisions thereto, Appeals to Civil Service Commission

1.4.1 Application of this Rule

A. The provisions of this Rule apply to regularly appointed employees who have probationary, trial service or regular status except as specifically provided within the Rule.

B. This Rule does not apply to employees who are exempted by state law, the City Charter or SMC Chapter 4.13 from compliance with the Personnel Rules or SMC Chapter 4.04 related to selection, discipline, termination or appeals of personnel actions to the Civil Service Commission.

C. The provisions of this subchapter shall be applied to employees of the Seattle Municipal Court except where they conflict with any policy promulgated by the Court and/or General Court Rule 29.

1.4.2 Procedure

A. A regular, trial service or probationary employee may initiate a grievance when there is a disagreement between the employee and the employee's supervisor or employing unit concerning the proper application of provisions of the Seattle Municipal Code Chapter 4.04 or Personnel Rules and any policies or procedures adopted pursuant thereto, except as follows:

1. An employee who is represented under the terms of a collective bargaining agreement between the City and an authorized bargaining unit may utilize this grievance procedure to grieve the improper application of provision of the Seattle Municipal Code Chapter 4.04, or the Personnel Rules, policies and procedures adopted pursuant thereto. Alleged violations of the collective bargaining agreement are not grievable using the procedure provided in this Rule.
2. The classification and compensation decisions rendered by the Seattle Human Resources Director are not grievable under this Personnel Rule. An employee may, however, grieve an alleged violation of any provisions of SMC 4.04, the Personnel Rules and policies or procedures adopted pursuant thereto that govern the processes of classifying and setting compensation for employment positions if the employee believes that those processes were not followed.

B. If any grievance under this Rule overlaps with an investigation being conducted for violation of Rule 1.1, the process may be as follows:

1. The Seattle Human Resources Director may hold grievances filed alleging violation of Personnel Rule 1.1 in abeyance until the investigation of such violation has been completed.
2. The grievance shall resume once the investigator has transmitted the investigation report to the appointing authority.

C. The employee grievance procedure shall consist of three steps. In an effort to expedite the grievance process, grievances shall be filed at the step in which there is authority to adjudicate, provided that the supervisor(s) be notified of any step that is skipped. If the employee and the department are not able to agree on which step the grievance shall be initiated, the employee shall file the grievance at Step One. The employee and their departmental management shall make a reasonable effort to settle grievances at the lowest possible step.

1. Step One. The employee shall present a written request for a meeting with their immediate supervisor within 20 calendar days following the grievable incident. At the meeting, the employee shall identify
 - a. The grievable incident;
 - b. The provision of Seattle Municipal Code Chapter 4.04 or the Personnel Rule or policy or procedure adopted pursuant thereto that they believes was improperly applied; and
 - c. The remedy the grievant seeks.

Within 14 calendar days of the meeting, the supervisor shall provide a response, verbally or in writing, to the grievant, indicating whether the supervisor found that the grievance has merit, the reasons for that determination, and, if the grievance has merit, what remedy the supervisor proposes. If the supervisor does not have the authority to resolve the grievance or denies the grievance at Step One, the supervisor shall instruct the employee that they may proceed to Step Two.

2. Step Two. If the grievance is not resolved at Step One, the employee shall present the grievance in writing to their division director within 14 calendar days following receipt of the Step One response. The employee's written description of their grievance must be signed and dated and shall include the information provided at Step One as well as an explanation of why the employee found the Step One outcome unacceptable. If the grievance is initially submitted at Step Two, the employee shall present the grievance in writing to their division director within 20 calendar days of the grievable incident. The employee's written description of their grievance must be signed and dated and shall include the information required at Step One. The division director shall provide a written response within 14 calendar days of the presentation of the Step Two grievance, informing the grievant of the outcome of their review and any proposed remedy. Denial of the grievance shall permit the employee to proceed to Step Three. If the division director denies the grievance, does not have the authority to resolve the grievance, or if the division director is the employee's immediate supervisor and has responded to the grievance at Step One, the division director shall instruct the employee that they may proceed to Step Three.

3. Step Three. If the grievance is not resolved at Step Two, the employee shall submit a Step Three grievance to the City Seattle Human Resources Director within 14 calendar days after the date of the division director's response. The Step Three grievance shall consist of:

- a. The written Step Two grievance;
- b. The division director's response to the Step Two grievance;
- c. An explanation of any and all reason(s) the employee finds the Step Two response unacceptable; and
- d. A cover sheet signed and dated by the grievant that clearly identifies the submittal as a Step Three grievance.

If the grievance is initially submitted at Step Three, the employee shall present the grievance in writing to the Seattle Human Resources Director within 20 calendar days of the grievable incident. The employee's written description of the grievance must be signed and dated and shall include the information required at Step One.

The Seattle Human Resources Director shall review the grievance and may meet with the grievant and any other individuals the Director identifies as having additional relevant information about the grievable incident. The Seattle Human Resources Director shall provide a report of their investigation to the grievant and the grievant's appointing authority within 14 calendar days after receipt of the Step Three grievance or within 7 calendar days after meeting with the grievant, whichever is later. In addition, the Seattle Human Resources Director shall provide to the appointing authority a confidential recommendation for resolution of the grievance. The appointing authority may consider the Seattle Human Resources Director's recommendation for resolution, but they shall be responsible for determining the grievance resolution. The appointing authority will answer the grievance setting forth their decision in writing within seven (7) calendar days after receipt of the Seattle Human Resources Director's recommendation. The appointing authority shall notify the employee of their right to appeal the suspension, demotion or termination to the Civil Service Commission.

C. The timelines provided in Personnel Rule 1.4.2 B may be extended by mutual written agreement of the aggrieved employee and the appropriate management representative at the relevant step. The employee's failure to comply with these timelines, absent an agreement to extend them, shall constitute their withdrawal of the grievance. Failure of the appropriate management representative to comply with these timelines shall allow the employee to proceed to the next step.

1.4.3 Alternative Dispute Resolution or Office of the Employee Ombud

An employee who files a grievance under the employee grievance procedure may at any time prior to the disposition of the grievance at Step Three request, bring the case to Office of the Employee Ombud or Alternative Dispute Resolution staff at the Seattle Department of Human Resources to determine whether a mediation process would be an appropriate way to address the grievance. The purpose of the Alternative Dispute Resolution program and the Office of the Employee Ombud is to resolve the conflict outside of a formal resolution process, that does not involve an investigation or determination of violation of Rules or policy. If the dispute is accepted for a mediation process, the appointing authority shall waive the timelines for the employee grievance procedure until the completion of that process. If the dispute is not resolved through mediation, the employee may resume his or her pursuit of a remedy through the employee grievance procedure.

1.4.4 Appeal to Civil Service Commission

If a regular employee exhausts this grievance procedure and remains dissatisfied with the outcome of an action that falls within the jurisdiction of the Civil Service Commission, the employee may file an appeal with the Civil Service Commission in accordance with Seattle Municipal Code Section 4.04.260:

A. In order to appeal an action that is upheld by the grievance process, the employee must file a “Notice of Appeal” with the Civil Service Commission within 20 calendar days of the delivery of the Step Three grievance response.

B. The 20 calendar days begins to run on the date of delivery of the notice of the Step 3 grievance response and right to appeal is given to the employee personally or delivered by messenger to the employee’s most recent address as shown on departmental records. If the notice of grievance response and right to appeal is mailed, the 20 calendar days begins to run on the third calendar day after the notice is mailed.

Walker Dodson

I am seeking your vote to serve on the Civil Service Commission. I am currently shop steward and chapter vice-president of PTE17's Seattle Chapter and have served as a member of the Race and Social Justice Change Team. As someone deeply invested in ensuring due process is provided for all City employees, with your vote, I would like to extend this service to non-represented employees as well.

The commission meets to hear appeals involving disciplinary actions or alleged violations. These hearings are important events in an employee's life and the decision of the Commission will have far-reaching impacts. With that in mind, I will be a dedicated and impartial employee representative on the commission. This position also has the responsibility of reviewing and commenting on proposed new Personnel Rules, submitting recommendations to the Mayor and City Council, and investigating allegations against elected officials. I look forward to the opportunity to serve my peers, and the City of Seattle, in this role.

Please consider placing your trust in me as your next representative on the Civil Service Commission.

Yolanda Geolingo

I am originally from Moss Point, MS, and joined the U.S. Army in 1995 and completed my service in 2004 after deployment to OIF and OEF. Before going into the military, I earned my Bachelor in Business Administration from ASU. While in the military, I earned two Master's degrees from TSU in Human Resource Management and Public Administration.

I have worked in HR for over 25 years with various organizations. I currently work as an SR HR Business Partner for the FAS department. During my HR career, my positions have allowed me to advocate for both the employer and employee in resolving challenging issues. I have worked and supported various organizations that offered something for the staff and communities alike. I am currently a Commissioner for WA State AAA Commission, a Board member for SHRM Oly Chapter, and a FAS Change team member. Given the opportunity, I would play an essential role in ensuring that employees have a fair and equitable way to be heard and contribute my time and efforts in making a difference for the employees of the City of Seattle and the communities they serve.

I respectfully request your vote to be elected to the commission.
