This settlement is made between Vanessa Matlock and the Executive Director of the Seattle Ethics and Elections Commission (the "Director"). Upon approval by the Seattle Ethics and Elections Commission (the "Commission"), the following findings, conclusions and agreements shall be binding upon Vanessa Matlock, the Director, and the Commission (the "Parties"), and their successors, heirs and assigns, and shall constitute the complete agreement between the Parties.

Matlock and the Director agree to the following:

FINDINGS OF FACT

- 1. Matlock has worked for Seattle Public Utilities (SPU) since 1995, and has worked in the Customer Service Branch for 13 years. She is currently a Utility Account Representative (UAR) in the Customer Service Branch. In her official capacity as a City employee, she has access to the City's Consolidated Customer Service System (CCSS).
- 2. UARs have CCSS access to aid Seattle City Light (SCL) and SPU customers with billing questions. Matlock's CCSS access allows her to make account adjustments, set up payment arrangements, cancel shut-off notices, waive an extra garbage fee, waive a returned check fee, or waive late payment fees.
- 3. UARs can access both SCL and SPU accounts. Each time a customer account is accessed a unique UAR identifier is automatically recorded by the system. The UAR identifier is tagged "_01" if the UAR works on an SCL account and "_02" for work on an SPU account.

 Matlock's identifiers are MATLOCV_01 and MATLOCV_02. Matlock received training beginning in 2002 regarding use of the CCSS system, and was aware of department policies regarding payment arrangements.¹

- Matlock is the account holder of record for a City residential utility account.
 Seattle Public Utility Payment Arrangements
- 5. SPU customers are billed every two months. The bill is due 21 days after issuance.
- 6. SPU offers payment arrangements to customers who need time to deal with larger-than-expected bills or as a process to reduce and manage monthly payments. A payment arrangement results in deferred income for the utility and defers credit action against a utility customer, including the application of late fees. Payment arrangements extend over a 60-day period. Successfully completing a payment arrangement requires a customer to pay both the payment arrangement amounts and current charges regularly billed.
- 7. If a customer fails to successfully complete a payment arrangement, the automatic utility billing system will cancel the arrangement, impose late fees, and reinstate the account balance. Customers are not eligible for another payment arrangement if they fail to successfully complete two payment arrangements in any 12-month period.
- 8. SPU's Credit and Collections Billing Policy and Procedure permits a UAR to establish a payment arrangement without an upfront payment when the account is in past due status. If SPU has sent an "Urgent Notice," the customer is required to pay 50 percent of the amount due before the customer can make a payment arrangement. If SPU has issued a "Shut Off Notice," the customer is required to pay 75 percent of the amount due before the customer can make a payment arrangement.
- 9. Between January 2010 and January 2011, Matlock created 10 payment arrangements on her SPU bill using her CCSS access.

- 10. On February 2, 2010, Matlock established a payment arrangement on her account. Since she had received a Shut Off notice, SPU policy required that she make an upfront payment equal to 75 percent of her outstanding balance. Matlock paid just three percent of her outstanding balance.
- 11. Matlock failed to make a scheduled payment in February, and so on February 22 the system automatically canceled her payment arrangement.
- 12. On February 26, 2010, Matlock accessed CCSS and set up another payment arrangement. She again failed to make a scheduled payment, and so the arrangement was canceled.
- 13. Though she was not eligible as an SPU customer for further payment arrangements because she had failed to complete two payment arrangements in a 12-month period, Matlock used her access to CCSS to set up eight more payment arrangements over the ensuing 12 months. She cancelled four of these arrangements and, contrary to SPU policy, rolled her outstanding balance into new arrangements on four of these eight occasions.

- 14. Between October 2009 and January 2011, Matlock used her CCSS access to make nine payment arrangements on her SCL account. Despite the fact that during those 14 months she made only four payments, these payment arrangements ensured that SCL never shut her power off or referred her account to collection.
- 15. For example, Matlock created a payment arrangement on December 31, 2009, with all payments due by February 26, 2010. On February 26, Matlock again accessed her account, canceled the arrangement and set up a new payment arrangement, rolling over the balance due into the new arrangement, thus avoiding late fees or collection action.
