Marcie Frost, Director
Department of Retirement Systems
Olympia, Washington

Examination Report

The Washington State Department of Retirement Systems (DRS) administers eight public retirement systems, comprising 15 different retirement plans for state and local government employees. These systems serve nearly 700,000 current and former public employees. Both public employers and their eligible employees contribute to the retirement plans based on a percentage of the employee's pay.

State and local governments are responsible for reporting accurate and complete pensionable wage and contribution information to DRS in accordance with the applicable retirement plan's requirements set forth in Title 415 of the Washington Administrative Code. This information, which is referred to as "census data," is the basis for future determinations of retirement eligibility and payments for employees. It is also used to estimate the plan's pension liabilities to inform contribution rates and other funding decisions. Significant elements of census data may include: date of birth; date of hire or years of service; marital status; eligible compensation; class of employee; gender; date of termination or retirement; spouse date of birth; and employment status (active, inactive, or retired).

Please find attached our examination report on census data reporting by City of Seattle.

Sincerely,

TROY KELLEY

INDEPENDENT ACCOUNTANT'S REPORT

City of Seattle
King County
July 1, 2014 through June 30, 2015

Mayor and City Council
City of Seattle
Seattle, Washington

Marcie Frost, Director
Department of Retirement Systems
Olympia, Washington

We have examined the City of Seattle's management's assertion that pensionable wages and contributions reported to the Washington State Department of Retirement Systems (DRS) for the year ended June 30, 2015 are accurate and complete in accordance with applicable retirement plan requirements set forth in Title 415 of the Washington Administrative Code.

The City's management is responsible for the assertion. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the assertion based on our examination.

Our examination was conducted in accordance with attestation standards established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants and the standards applicable to attestation engagements contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States. Accordingly, it included examining on a test basis, evidence supporting management's assertion and performing such other procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances. We believe that our examination provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, management's assertion above is fairly stated, in all material respects, based on the applicable retirement plan requirements set forth in Title 415 of the Washington Administrative Code.

Our examination disclosed no issues that are required to be reported under Government Auditing Standards.

ABOUT THE STATE AUDITOR'S OFFICE

The State Auditor's Office is established in the state's Constitution and is part of the executive branch of state government. The State Auditor is elected by the citizens of Washington and serves four-year terms.

We work with our audit clients and citizens to achieve our vision of government that works for citizens, by helping governments work better, cost less, deliver higher value, and earn greater public trust.

In fulfilling our mission to hold state and local governments accountable for the use of public resources, we also hold ourselves accountable by continually improving our audit quality and operational efficiency and developing highly engaged and committed employees.

As an elected agency, the State Auditor's Office has the independence necessary to objectively perform audits and investigations. Our audits are designed to comply with professional standards as well as to satisfy the requirements of federal, state, and local laws.

Our audits look at financial information and compliance with state, federal and local laws on the part of all local governments, including schools, and all state agencies, including institutions of higher education. In addition, we conduct performance audits of state agencies and local governments as well as fraud, state whistleblower and citizen hotline investigations.

The results of our work are widely distributed through a variety of reports, which are available on our website and through our free, electronic subscription service.

We take our role as partners in accountability seriously, and provide training and technical assistance to governments, and have an extensive quality assurance program.
