

LITTLE SAIGON MURALS PROJECT

ISRD Board

ABOUT THE PROJECT

The Little Saigon murals project is part of Friends of Little Sài Gòn's (FLS) Crime Prevention Through Environmental Design (CPTED) program, a collaborative effort to support small businesses in Little Saigon. Murals are one way to turn a generic piece of infrastructure into an opportunity for local artists to brighten a neighborhood and enhance private spaces. The five mural locations were chosen based on community interest and support, high visibility, and proximity to community gathering spaces (parks).

Our goal for this project is to create large-scale art across Little Saigon that is impactful and reflective of the neighborhood's culture, history, and diverse community.

This project is supported by the City of Seattle's Office of Economic Development.

ABOUT THE DESIGNS – HAU HAU

ABOUT THE DESIGNS – HAU HAU

“Âu Cơ Sends the Dragon King Back to the Sea”

Lạc Long Quân was a powerful dragon lord associated with the sea and waterways. He was said to descend from dragons and possessed supernatural abilities. Âu Cơ was a beautiful immortal who came from the highlands. During her travels, she met Lạc Long Quân, and the two fell in love and married.

Instead of giving birth normally, Âu Cơ produced a sac containing 100 eggs. The eggs hatched into 100 healthy children, who became the ancestors of the Vietnamese people. But Lạc Long Quân belonged to the sea, while Âu Cơ belonged to the mountains. Eventually, they realized they could not remain together.

They divided their children.

Fifty children followed their father toward the sea.
Fifty followed their mother into the mountains.

The legend explains the shared ancestry of the Vietnamese people while acknowledging Vietnam's dramatically different landscapes and communities. Mountains and sea, highlands and river deltas, are presented as two halves of the same family.

The phrase “Con Rồng Cháu Tiên” literally means roughly “Children of the Dragon, Grandchildren of the Immortal/Fairy.” It's still used as a poetic way of describing Vietnamese ancestry.
