2018 State Legislative Bulletin

March 5, 2018

Number 8

The City of Seattle is committed to being a safe, vibrant, interconnected, and affordable city for all.

Week Overview

Week eight of the 2018 legislative session was the last full week for the legislature. After Tuesday February 27th, the opposite house fiscal cutoff, both chambers moved to the floor. After March 2nd, all bills must have been passed out of the opposite chamber, except initiatives and alternatives to initiatives, budgets and matters necessary to implement budgets, differences between the houses, and matters incident to the interim and closing of the session. Bills that do not move out of opposite house committees by this date are considered dead unless they are deemed necessary to implement the budget (NTIB). The legislature will need to have concluded its business by close of business on March 8th.

Primer on Concurrence, Dispute, and Conference

If a bill was amended in the opposite house from which it was originally introduced, the house of origin must decide whether it will concur with the amendments or not. This step must happen before a bill can be sent to the Governor's desk for signature. Leadership in each chamber decides which bills returned from the opposite house will be discussed and then places them on the concurrence calendar. There are three potential paths for bills that go into concurrence:

- Concurrence: If the house of origin concurs with the amendments, the bill has passed the legislature and it will head to the Governor.
- Dispute: If the house of origin disagrees with the amendment(s) from the opposite house, they can ask the opposite house to recede from the amendments. If the opposite house recedes, the bill has passed the legislature and it will head to the Governor.
- Conference: If the two houses cannot resolve their differences, they can ask for a conference committee. Members from each house are selected to meet to discuss the differences. If they agree on what is to be done, the conference committee makes a report. Both houses must adopt the conference report for the bill to pass the legislature. If one house does not adopt the conference report (either by vote or inaction), the bill has not passed.

Primer on Timing for Bill Signings

Bills that are delivered to the governor more than five days before the legislature adjourns have five days to be acted on. The governor may decide to sign a bill, veto part of it, or veto all of it. Bills that are delivered fewer than five days before the legislature adjourns have 20 days to be acted on by the governor. The days are counted as calendar days, not business days. Sundays are not counted, but Saturdays and holidays are. The clock does not start until the bill ‘hits the governor’s desk’. It is important to note that the clock doesn’t start immediately when it passes the legislature. After passage (or concurrence), the bill must be signed by both the Speaker of the House and President of the Senate and then it must be delivered to the governor. Doing this paperwork can sometimes take days, and sometimes it happens very quickly. Once it has been delivered to the governor the clock begins. If the governor does not act on a bill after the allotted number of days, it is as if it were signed. In other words, if the governor doesn’t sign a bill it doesn’t die, it defaults to passing. You can find the schedule for upcoming bill signings here.

Essential Coverage: SB 6084, sponsored by Sen. Cleveland, is another State backstop being considered for the Affordable Care Act. The bill originally aimed to require maintenance of minimum essential health care coverage. In other words, this bill would have established an individual mandate at the state level. The bill was first amended in the Senate Health & Long Term Care committee by adding on a task force to explore individual mandate enforcement mechanisms and the feasibility of other options to incentivize the maintenance of minimum essential coverage, and requires the task force to report on its findings to the legislature by December 1, 2018. The legislation failed to pass the Senate by Friday's cutoff so is considered dead. However, while 2408 did not pass in time for cutoff, the portion of the bill that requires carriers that sell in the SEBB to also sell Qualified Health Plans in the individual market was amended onto SB 6241, which relates to the broader implementation of the SEBB. SB 6241 did pass by cutoff with that amendment incorporated so that part of the effort is still alive and in play. The Senate will still need to concur on these changes to SB 6241. It is important to note that the portion of 2408 that would have provided premium assistance for people buying in WSHIP in 2019 is dead at this point, which could create some significant concerns for individual market options in 2019 depending on how the plan filings look. .

The substitute bill passed off the Senate floor on February 12th with a 26-21 vote count. The bill received a public hearing in House Judiciary on February 22nd, but no action was taken before the cutoff.

Kuderer, raises the age at which a person may purchase and possess cigarettes, tobacco, and vapor products from 18- to 21-years of age and requires licensed retailers to display signs stating the age restriction for purchasing tobacco or vapor products. Though both proposals did not make it past Friday cutoff, it has been said to be considered NTIB by both chambers. It was reported earlier that the bill had been significantly amended in the committees and most of these changes were preserved when the bill moved out of the Senate. The biggest change in the amendments that were put forward for the bill was the full funding of educator salaries in the 2018-19 school year, as ordered in the McCleary Order from November. The bill passed off the Senate floor on February 14th with a 25-22 vote count. The bill has been placed on second reading in the House.
