

Hiawatha Playfield wading pool 1912 by SMA

May fete at Hiawatha Playfield 1914 by SMA

playgrounds in 1900

Hiawatha Playfield 1912 by SMA

Children at Hiawatha Playfield 1912

Hiawatha Playfield 1912

west-seattle-high-school-2-seattle-1917

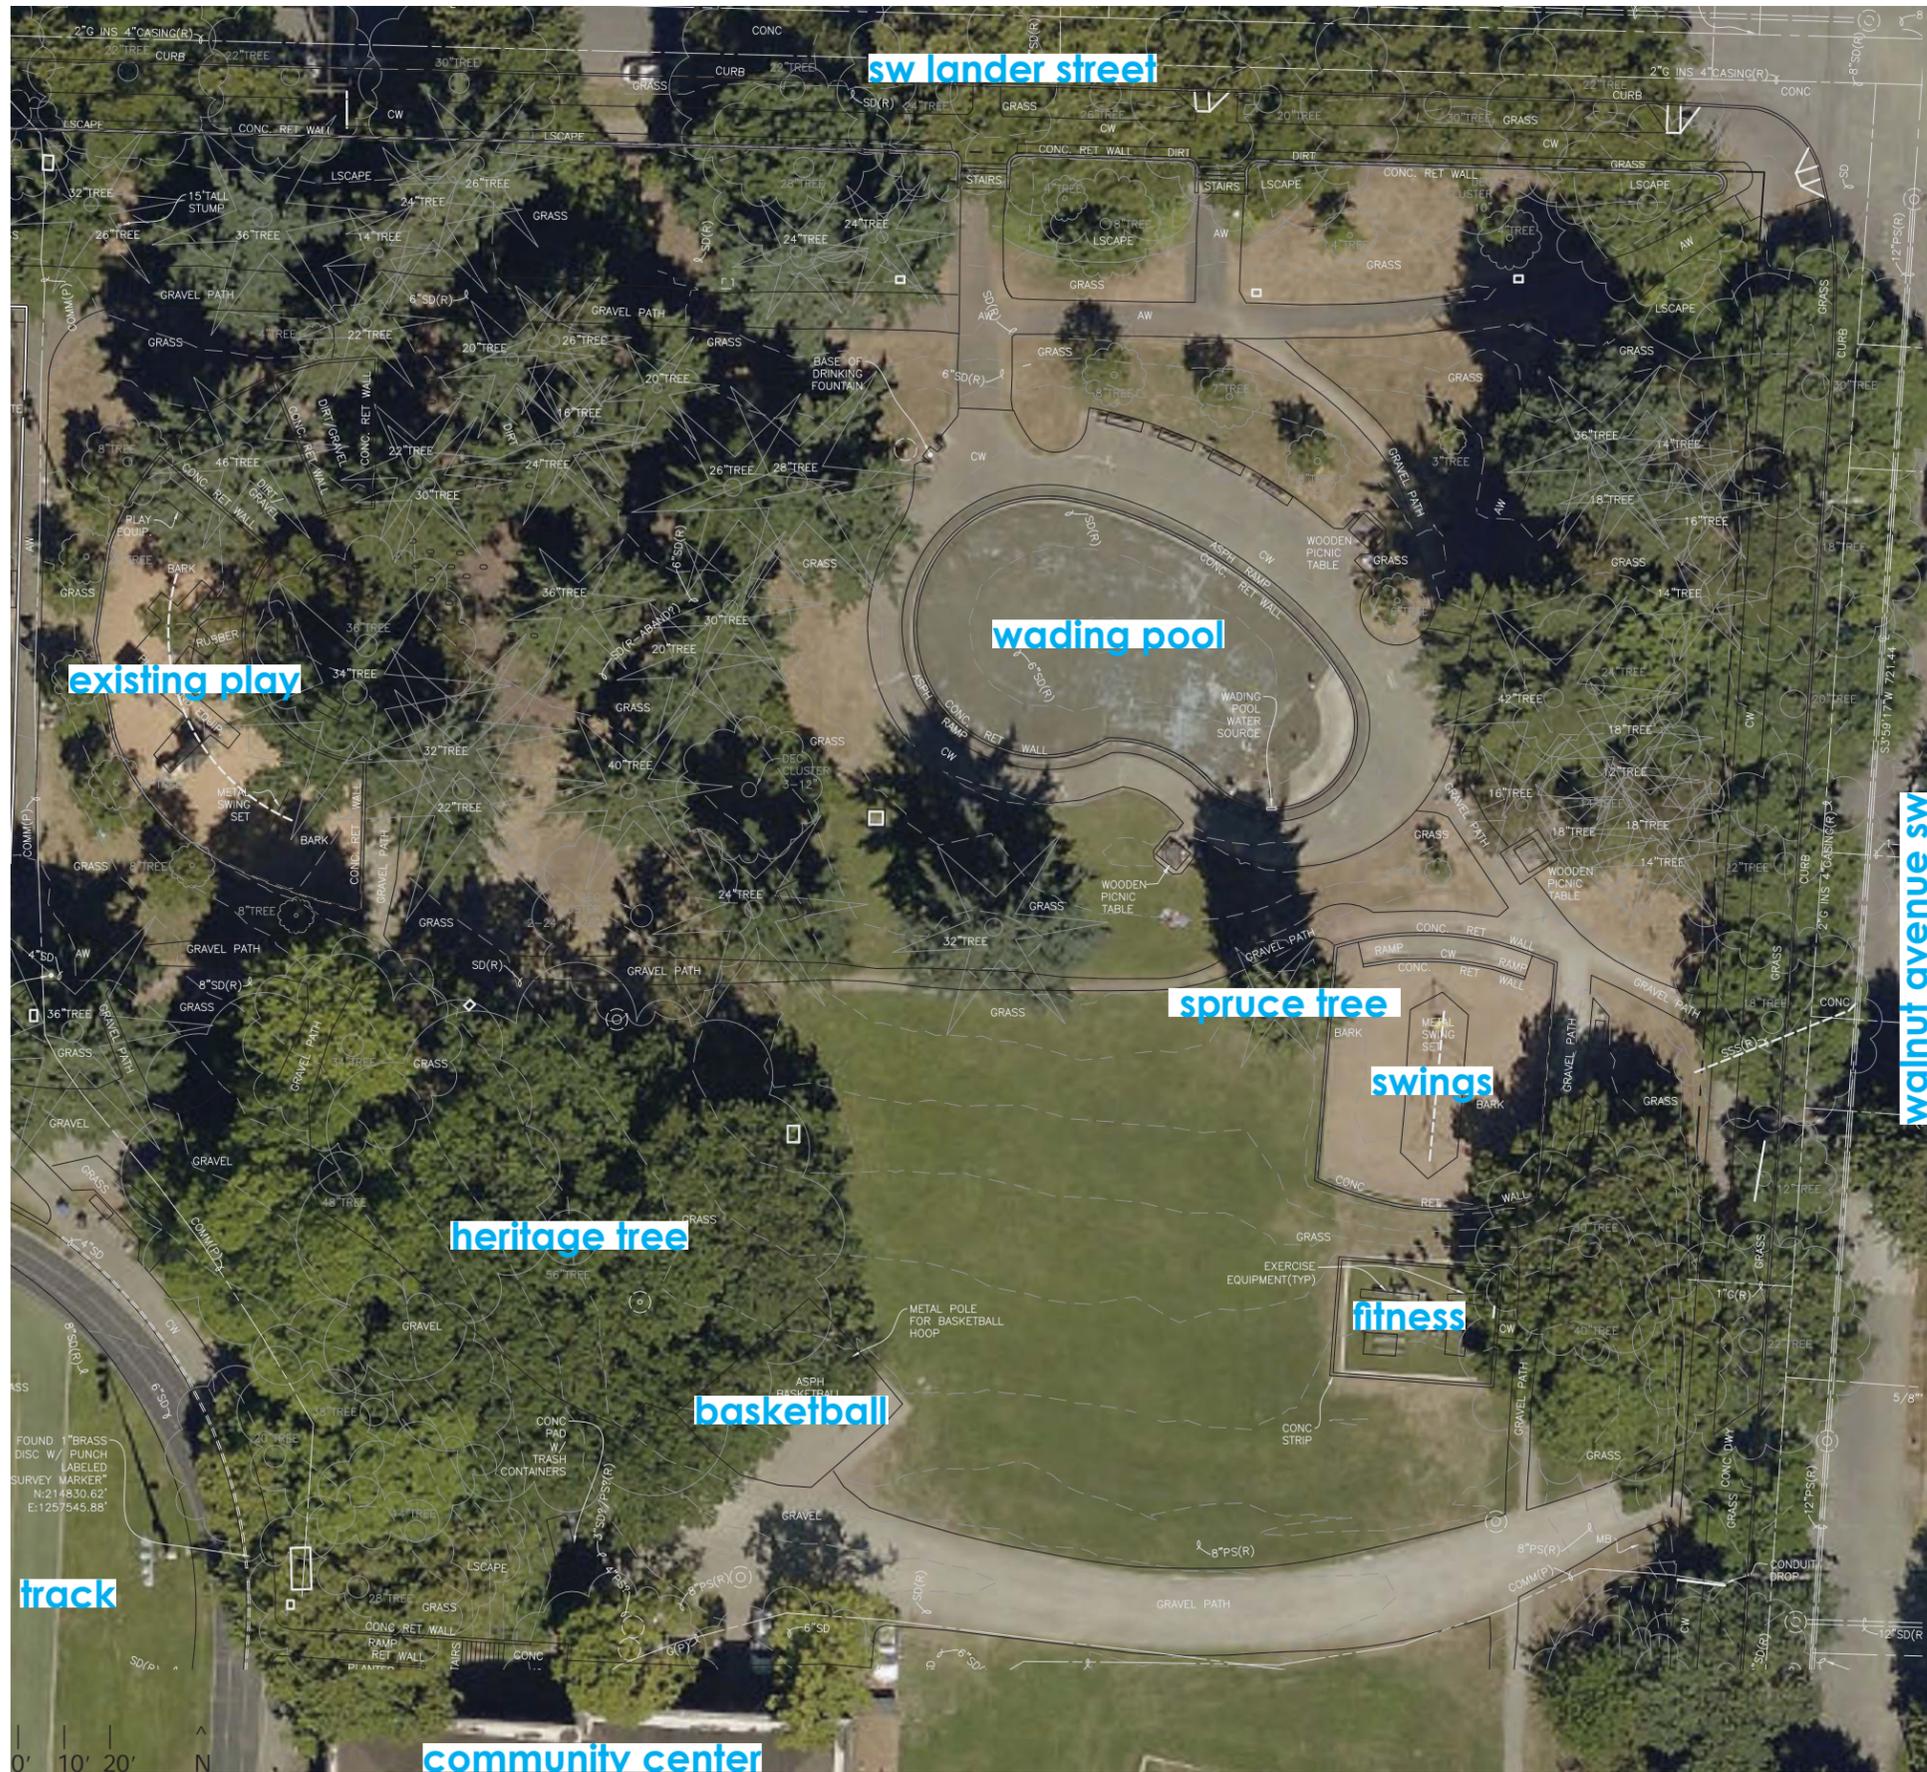

Boys exercising at Hiawatha Playfield 1911 by SMA

Baseball game at Hiawatha Playfield 1915 by SMA

Dance class at Hiawatha Playfield circa 1915

Existing play area

Stones at existing play area

Athletic equipment

Swings

Existing spruce

heritage tree

Irrigation by heritage tree

View to Gym

Edge of lawn

field with shot put

slide play - curled

slide play - tall tower

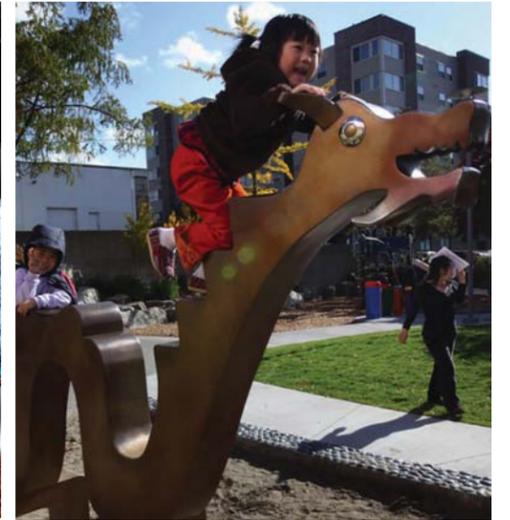

step play - group

spin play - group

whirl play

art play

slide play - roller

lawn play

net climber play

swing play - bird's nest

nature play - boulders

climbing wall play

fitness play

basketball play

net climber play

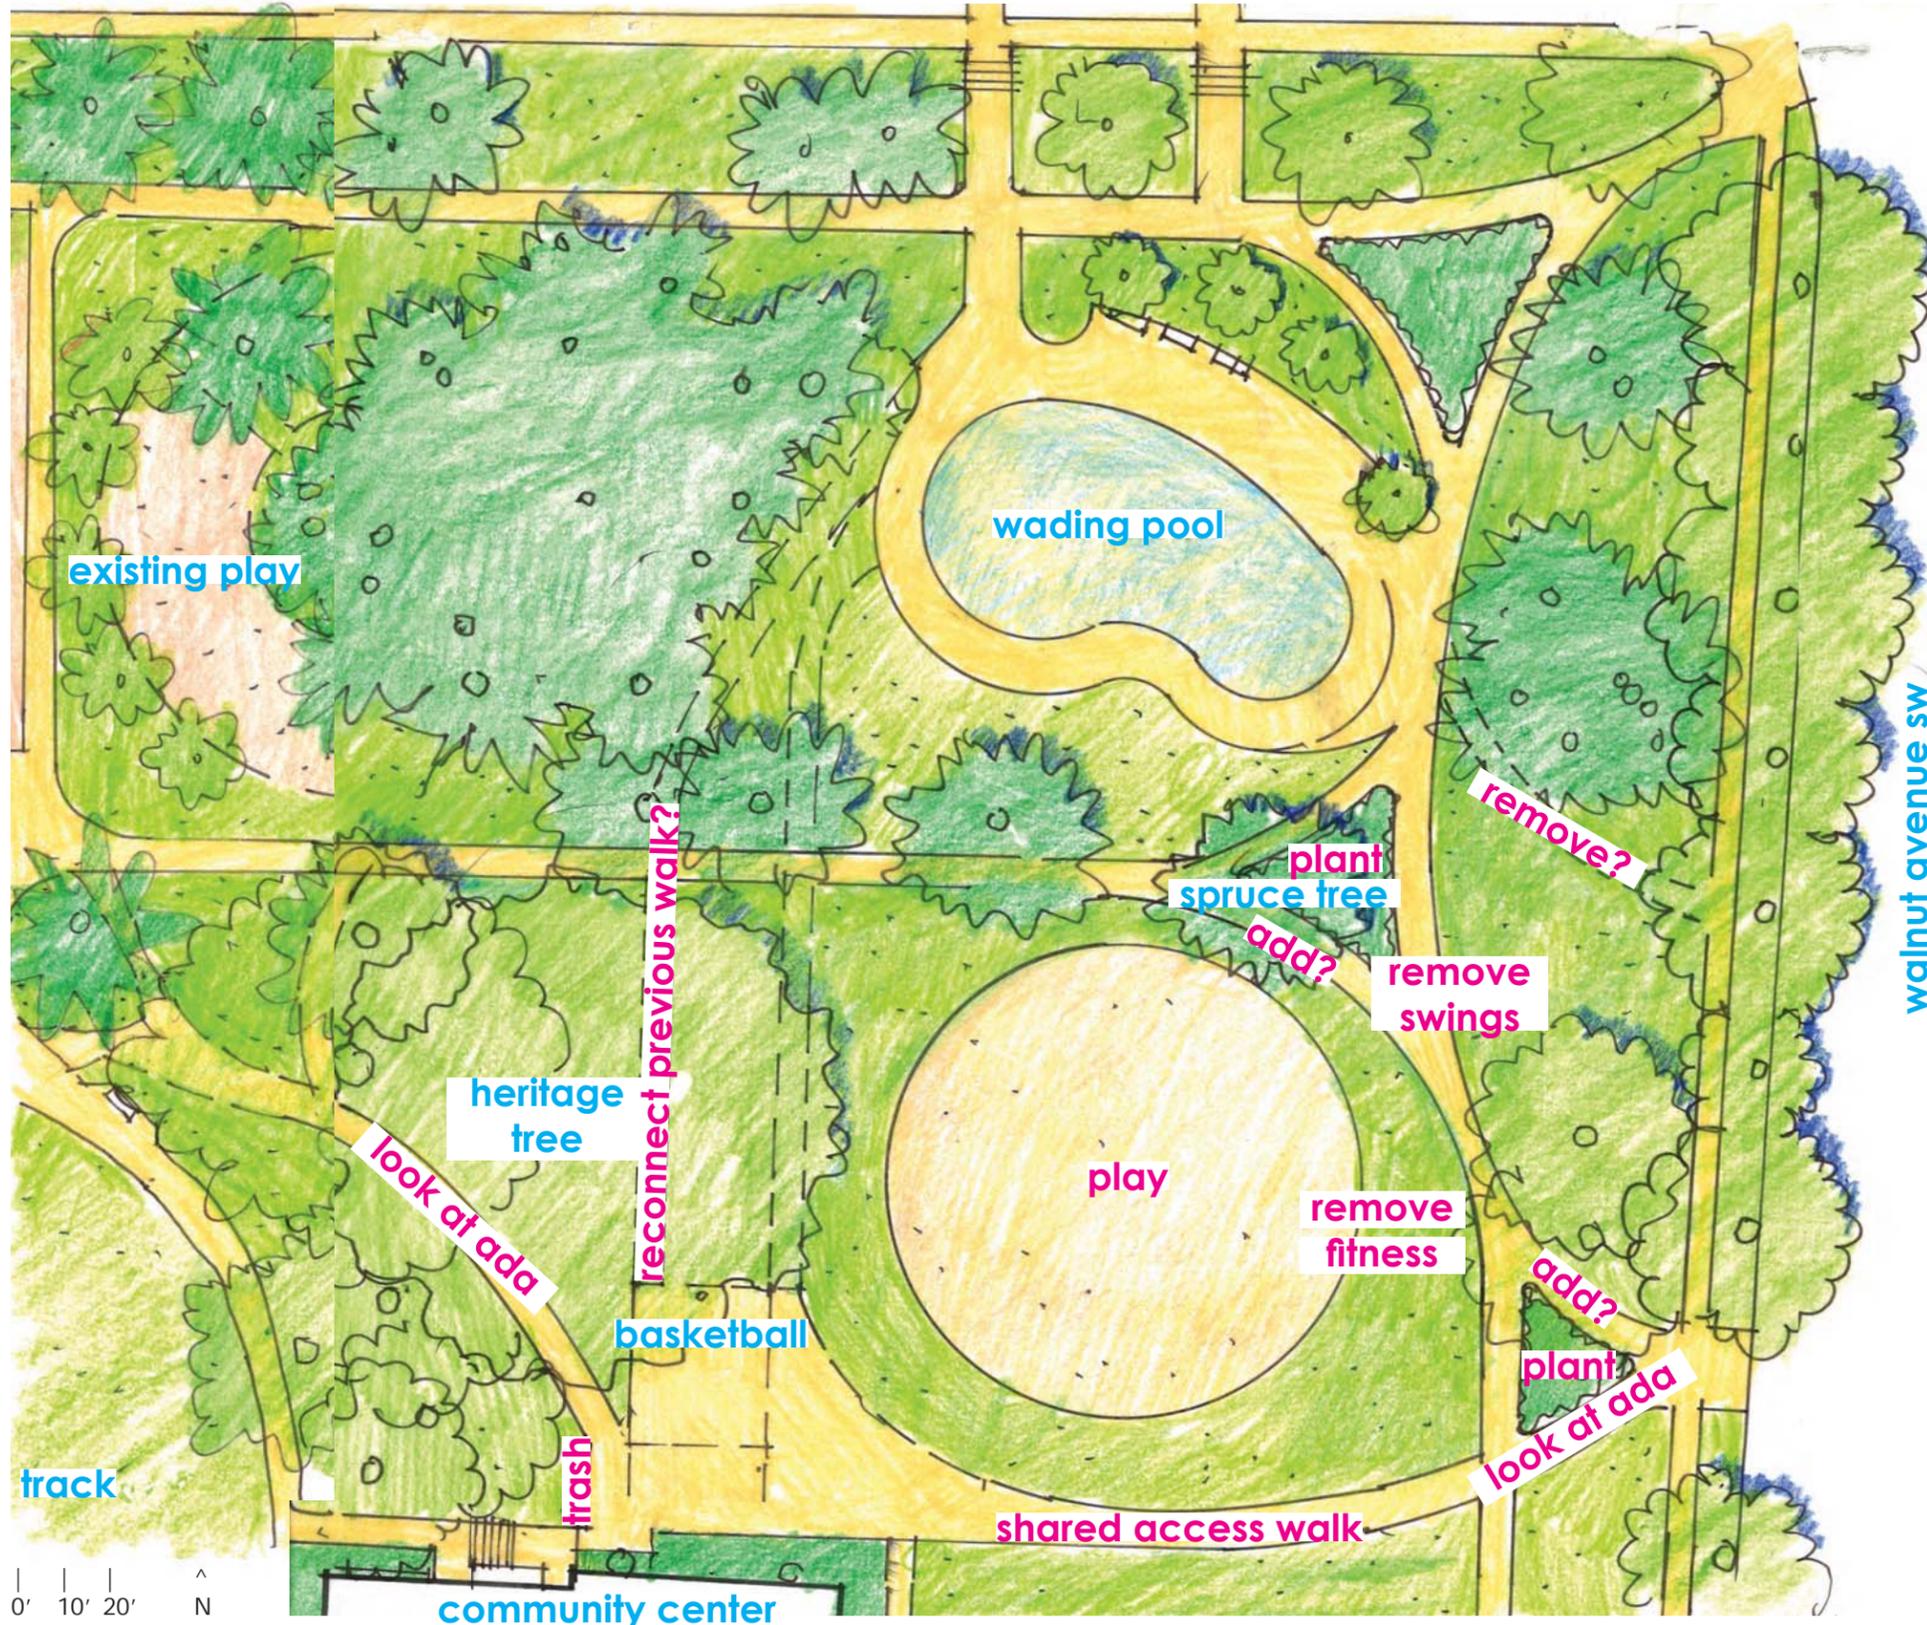

swing play - classic

nature play - logs

sw lander street

“This area affords space if the land is fairly level, for a baseball field, an athletic field, a fieldhouse, some tennis courts, a little folks’ playground, a wading or swimming pool and some lawns and groves with winding walks, ornamental shrubbery and flowers for the general public”

John Charles Olmsted to J. T. Heffernan, October 4, 1910, Job #02690, Seattle Park System. wa.gov).

- reference geometry of original 1910 pathways
- reference original planting plans
- improve accessibility

2018 Olmsted Parks Study