6:10 pm – Vision Zero, David Burgesser, SDOT – 40 min

- David Burgesser presented on Vision Zero
- Question regarding whether autonomous vehicles will be broken into a separate category on the major contributing factors slide.
  - David responded that it potentially fits under mechanical error. Depends on the responding officer and how they report it.
- does SDOT provide stats/data or other info up to federal-level orgs like NTSB for "squeaky wheel" data funnels like funding/funding allocation/project prioritization?
  - Not that David is aware of. There may be some things getting off the ground right now. Local crash reporting goes to Washington State Patrol and then it goes to the federal agencies from there.
- Question about arterial traffic calming.
  - Part of the toolkit and will be rolled out more aggressively in the next three years.
  - An example of something we haven't experimented with yet is roundabouts, but we are interested in using that as a tool.
- 50%+ of fatalities happen at night. Some research showing that night-time crashes are related to increased speeds. Less cars on the road means people drive faster.
- Question about speed cameras and expansion of the program.

The Seattle Pedestrian Advisory Board shall advise the City Council, the Mayor and all the offices of the city on matters related to pedestrians and the impacts which actions by the city may have upon the pedestrian environment; and shall have the opportunity to contribute to all aspects of the city's planning insofar as they relate to the pedestrian safety and access.
