

RAINIER VALLEY NORTH-SOUTH NEIGHBORHOOD GREENWAY MOST PROMISING ROUTE

Join the Seattle Department of Transportation (SDOT) on Wednesday, September 23 to talk about the proposed North-South Neighborhood Greenway in Rainier Valley between the I-90 Trail and Rainier Beach. We want to hear from people who live, work, shop and play along these streets. This is the second of two public meetings. At the first meeting in November 2014, we shared traffic data and the community identified where people want to walk and bike, and barriers to doing so. At this second meeting we'll share the results of technical analysis and public comments, and the most promising route with recommended safety improvements.

Seattle is building a network of neighborhood greenways. Neighborhood greenways are safer, calmer residential streets for you, your family and neighbors. On streets with low car volumes and speeds a greenway can:

- Improve safety
- Help people cross busy streets
- Discourage cut-thru traffic
- Protect the residential character of our neighborhoods
- Keep speeds low
- Get people to where they want to go like parks, schools, shops and restaurants
