

NEW PUBLIC ART IS ABOUT TO LAND IN HIGHLAND PARK!

Join Us to Celebrate & Meet the Artist

WHAT

Meet the artist, Matthew Mazzotta, and enjoy delicious hot beverages provided by the Highland Park Corner Store

WHEN

Tuesday, November 14 from 4 - 6 PM

WHERE

Meet at the sculpture on the southwest corner of Highland Park Way SW and SW Holden St. From there, we'll walk two blocks south to the Highland Park Corner Store. See reverse for map.

Seattle
Department of Transportation

The Levy to

MOVE SEATTLE

More about the Installation

During the week of November 6, our crews will install a 17-foot-tall Steller's jay at the intersection of Highland Park Way SW and SW Holden St. This artwork was created by Matthew Mazzotta and is titled Where's the Party: Elevating Nature and Resilience.

For your safety and the safety of our crews, please keep the area clear during installation. There will be lane closures and some equipment noise.

Where's the Party is a 1% for Art project funded by the Levy to Move Seattle and is part of the Highland Park Way SW and SW Holden St Safety Improvements Project.

Seattle
Department of Transportation

OFFICE OF ARTS & CULTURE
SEATTLE

Scan the QR code to learn more about the Highland Park Way SW & SW Holden St Safety Project and to sign up for email updates!

bit.ly/3pQCn2L