IV. 2021 SFC Review Schedule.

- A. Ken Brouillette announced that FCAB will be reviewing the 2021 SFC and making recommendations for changes over the next couple of months. The goal is to stay in line with the proposed State adoption of July 1, 2023 for implementation in Seattle. FCAB meetings to be held every two weeks unless more are necessary.
- B. Shawn Shepherd was introduced by Ken Brouillette and Shawn indicated that in third party plan reviews will be starting soon and they should help with the backlog.

V. Draft Administrative Rule 12.01.22.

- A. Ken Brouillette explained that this document is necessary to catch up with the emerging Energy Storage System technology. The current 2018 SFC does not have the ability to address these systems thoroughly. This document is based on the upcoming 2021 IFC and 2024 IFC. The intent is to have this Rule in effect until the next SFC is in effect and then rescind the Rule. This draft rule will exempt one and two family dwellings and townhouses for review at this time. Discussions are occurring with SDCI for how to permit these types of occupancies in the future.
- B. Hugo Sotelo asked if OSHA rules had been cross referenced. Shawn Shepherd stated these are not stand-alone charging stations and ESS are more like a UPS.
- C. Kevin Marr asked if the 2024 IFC had already been approved by ICC. Ken Brouillette said yes and indicated that they are shown in purple on the draft rule.
- D. Motion was made by Kevin Marr and seconded by Amy Liu. Passed

VI. 2021 SFC Chapters 6 through 8.

- A. Ken Brouillette explained the documents that indicated the Green text is proposed or existing WA State amendments, Red is existing 2018 amendments that will be brought forward, blue is new language in the 2021 and Purple is any new proposed amendments.
- B. Amy Liu brought up that different regulations exist for commercial versus residential sites for oil storage tanks.
- C. Ken Brouillette discussed that a new clothes dryer exhaust system section has been added in the 2021 IFC. Kevin Marr asked what is a dryer exhaust system. Ken Brouillette explained that this section was developed to address laundry room situations and not individual dryers in homes.
- D. Kevin Marr made motion to approve Chapter 6. Kurt Lustig seconded the motion. Passed.
- E. Chapter 7 was presented and Ken Brouillette explained the proposed changes in purple regarding ducts and air transfer openings and the reason that Seattle Fire would like to bring this forward. It was explained that this was going through the legislative process at the State but because of time allowances, it did
