Matt Aalfs

423 2nd Ave Et S (and 417 Second Avenue Extension S)

Final design for rehabilitation of existing buildings including rebuilding the two missing floors which were removed in 1950 on the southern “Busy Bee” building including:

Complete renovation and adaptive re-use of the three-story Metropole building located at 423 Second Avenue Extension S. and the adjacent two-story building at 417 Second Avenue Extension S.,
Complete seismic retrofit, and additional code-mandated structural upgrades, accessibility improvements, new exit stairs and elevators,
New systems for HVAC,
A rooftop photovoltaic array,
A new electrical transformer vault will be constructed in the basement as required by Seattle City Light,
The Metropole Building rusticated sandstone façade will be repaired and restored,
The brick masonry on both buildings will be repaired and restored,
The missing cornice on the Metropole Building will be replaced in kind,
Missing windows and storefronts will be replaced,
The southern building four original windows on the east façade will be restored and the others replaced,
Fire escape will be decommissioned, retaining the rails,
An outdoor rooftop play area is planned as part of the childcare center use and a rooftop terrace will be installed on the roof, both which will be accessed by an elevator and two stairs connected with a breezeway.
Waivers requested for overhead weather protection, alley widening and setbacks of solar panels and stair penthouse and circulation.
