"And finally, when this job (and humanity) has you questioning why you were even doing this, think back to why you started doing it. The reason is the same. You cannot save the world, but what you can do is help one person at a time. That is all you must do. Do that, and yours is a life well lived."

- Lt. Stephen Williams, Humanize the Badge

There's lots of things
Surrounding us
But the bees and the birds
And the flowers and the trees
Go together,

Just like me and you
Just like me
Just like you
Just like the song of love.
